NEWS FROM FORTRESS MONROE.

The Rebels Defeated in Two Engagements.

Attack on Williamsburgh with Cavalry and Infantry.

The Enemy Driven off by the Fifth Pennsylvania Cavalry.

AN ATTACK ON WINGFIELD, N. C.

The Rebels Repulsed by a Detachment of North Carolinians.

FORTRESS MONROE, Sunday, March 29.

The enemy attacked Williamsburgh this morning with cavalry and infantry, and were repulsed by the Fifth Pennsylvania cavalry, under Col. LEWIS.

At noon to-day the enemy had retreated, and Col. LEWIS had reëstablished his pickets.

The loss is not yet ascertained.

The enemy attacked Wingfield, on the Chowan River, and were repulsed.

The enemy's force consisted of the Forty-second North Carolina regiment and guerrillas under Col. BROWN.

Lieut. McCLANE, with part of a company of the First North Carolina Volunteers, took refuge in a blockhouse, where they defended themselves successfully, and after a fight of an hour and a half, beat the enemy off.

Gen. FOSTER came up the next day from Plymouth with three companies, and four companies of the Eleventh Pennsylvania cavalry were sent from Suffolk by Gen. PECK.

Col. BROWN succeeded in crossing the Chowan River with part of his force. The remainder were attacked near Edenton, and dispersed after a short resistance. Our troops are hunting them up in the swamps.

FORTRESS MONROE, Saturday, March 28.

An officer, who deserted from the rebel ranks, arrived in Norfolk yesterday. He reports that the rebels are evacuating Richmond as fast as it is possible for them to do so quietly. The report is not fully credited.

Last Sabbath several clergymen of Norfolk gave notice that the churches would be open on Friday, the 27th, for services in conformity with JEFF. DAVIS' proclamation. The churches were accordingly opened. But as the worshippers began to congregate, they found guards of Union soldiers at the church doors. Consequently no services were allowed.

A Richmond paper says Judge MEREDITH, of the rebel Circuit Court, has decided that every citizen of Maryland, and every foreigner, who ever enlisted in the rebel army, no matter for how short a time, acquired a domicil, and was therefore liable to conscription, if between 18 and 45 years of age.

The hull and machinery of the Pennsylvania, burned three years ago on James River, have been raised, and passed here last evening for Baltimore.

The steamer Spaulding arrived here this morning, bringing mails from the fleet at Hilton Head, which she left last Thursday. She reports the steamboat Expounder, formerly the Daniel Webster, aground near Stono Inlet. There was no movement at Hilton Head to report of the fleet.

Col. LUDLOW, Commissioner for the exchange of prisoners, has concluded arrangements with rebel Commissioner OULD for the exchange of all United States officers held by the rebel Government.

The steamboat State of Maine left Fortress Monroe at noon for City Point, under a flag of truce. She took up for exchange 280 prisoners of war, including 16 rebel officers and 225 citizen prisoners.

FROM THE SOUTHERN COAST.

Destruction of the New Rebel Privateer Georgiana.

WASHINGTON, Saturday, March 28.

Information has been received by telegraph, dated Fortress Monroe, of the arrival there to-day of the United States supply steamer Massachusetts from Port Royal 23d, via Charleston, Wilmington and Beaufort.

She brings no news, excepting to the Navy Department, a confirmation of the rebel report of the destruction by our fleet of the rebel steamer Georgiana off Long Island beach, South Carolina. Information had previously reached here that she left Liverpool on the 21st of January, and that at her departure many Secessionists were present, who waved handkerchiefs and made many other manifestations of their delight. It was then supposed that she had arms on board, but this could only positively be known by the manifest. She was not really fitted out in English waters as a privateer; but there seemed to be no doubt but that this was to be done. The officers on board wore gold lace. She was a powerful steamer of 407 tons burden, and 150 horse power, and it had just been represented to the Navy Department that she was more formidable than the Alabama.

THE FATE OF THE INDIANOLA.

A Dispatch from Admiral Farragut—The Wreck of the Indianola Seen, Ten Miles above Grand Gulf.

WASHINGTON, Sunday, March 29.

A dispatch was received by the Navy Department, to-day, from Admiral FARRAGUT, dated below Warrenton, Mississippi, March 19, in which he says that about ten miles above Grand Gulf he saw the wreck of the Indianola on the right bank of the river. She was partially submerged, and her upper works were very much shattered by explosion.

STILL ANOTHER VALUABLE PRIZE.

The prize steamship Granite City, Acting Master KING in charge, from Bahama Banks March 23, arrived at this port last evening.

The Granite City was captured March 22 off Eleuthera, (Bahamas,) by the United States gunboat Tioga, Commander A. G. CLEARY. She is an iron side-wheel steamer, of about 400 tons burden, and was built in December last. She has an assorted cargo. She was from Nassau, N. P.

On the same day, the Tioga captured a schooner of about 80 tons, with a very valuable cargo on board. She was sent to Key West for adjudication.

The following are the officers sent home in charge of the Granite City: Acting-Master King, Acting First Assistant Engineer Wm. A. R. Letimer, Acting Third Assistant Engineer H. S. Ross, Acting Master's Mate Jas. A. Cook, Captain's Clerk, Chas. A. Beach.

IMPORTANT REBEL NEWS.

Reported Attempt of Two Gunboats to Pass the Batteries at Vicksbugh.

One of them Said to be Sunk and the Other Disabled.

Alleged Repulse of the Yazoo Expedition, via the Sunflower.

A NEW MOVEMENT AGAINST FORT PEMBERTON

The following important rebel dispatches were received by way of Fredericksburgh, and telegraphed from the headquarters of the Army of the Potomac:

VICKSBURGH, Wednesday, March 25.

Two of the enemy's gunboats attempted to pass down the river this morning, when our batteries opened upon them with effect. One was sunk opposite our batteries. The other was badly riddled, and now lies opposite the canal batteries. It is expected that the latter will be sunk. She was set on fire, and it appears to have been extinguished. The firing of our batteries was splendid. Almost every shot took effect.

AN OFFICIAL REPORT OF THE AFFAIR.

JACKSON, Miss., March 25.

To Gen. S. Cooper, Adjutant and Inspector General, Richmond:

The following was received this morning from Gen. STEVENSON:

"Four boats came to the turn at sunrise this morning. Two of them attempted to pass our batteries. One was sunk with all on board, and the other lies at the mouth of the canal, apparently disabled.

S. C. PEMBERTON,
Lieutenant-General Commanding.

THE YAZOO RIVER EXPEDITION—FORT PEMBERTON.

VICKSBURGH, Wednesday, March 25,
Via MOBILE, Thursday, March 26.

On Saturday morning Col. FERGUSON, commanding the batteries at the junction of Deep Creek and Sunflower River, thirty-five miles above its junction with the Yazoo, repulsed the enemy, and destroyed, it is said, three gunboats and drove the balance back.

Col. FERGUSON has sufficient force to hold the enemy in check, and recommends that reinforcements be sent in the rear of the enemy to cut off his retreat.

The movement on the part of the enemy was to flank our batteries on Haines' Bluff, on the Yazoo.

MOBILE, Thursday, March 26.

The Jackson Appeal says that the repulse of the enemy in their attempts to enter Sunflower River has been definitely ascertained. The fleet was driven back, and a large number of their barges captured.

The enemy are reported to have made another advance against Fort Pemberton, with considerably increased strength. Every effort will be made to defeat them, as the importance of holding the position seems to be fully appreciated by our authorities.

THE INVASION OF KENTUCKY.

Two Divisions of Rebel Infantry Said to Have Crossed the Cumberland.

Recapture of Danville by the National Forces.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Saturday, March 28.

The Journal learns from a creditable source that two divisions of rebel infantry crossed the Cumberland yesterday at Staggs' Ferry, near Wailsburgh, Pulaski County. Headquarters have received no notice of this invasion.

Frankfort and Lexington are under martial law. All is quiet in their vicinity.

There is no news from Danville to-day.

Yesterday afternoon the freight train, seven miles below Gallatin, broke through a bridge. Three men and about 120 head of cattle were killed.

Two freight trains collided to-day between Bardstown and Lebanon Junction. Several cars were smashed, but no lives were lost.

CINCINNATI, Sunday, March 29.

Gen. GILMORE crossed the Kentucky River in force yesterday, recaptured Danville, and is driving the rebels in the direction of Crab Orchard.

IMPORTANT FROM TENNESSEE.

Concentration of Rebel Infantry at Tullahoma—A Division of Rebel Cavalry in East Kentucky, &c.

CINCINNATI, Sunday, March 29.

Parson BROWNLOW has arrived from Tennessee, and reports that the rebels are concentrating all their infantry formerly in East Tennessee at Tullahoma, while their cavalry has made a diversion on East Kentucky, hoping to draw forces from ROSECRANS, and that reinforcements are arriving daily at Tullahoma, from Virginia.

MURFREESBORO, Sunday, March 29.

It is certain that no rebel infantry has passed either flank of this army in Kentucky; therefore the Kentucky panic is baseless.

There is reason to believe that VAN DORN, with 8,000 mounted infantry and cavalry, has moved to strike the Cumberland River below Clarksville, to intercept navigation.

We have trustworthy information that the rebels are concentrating exclusively in this front to resist ROSECRANS's advance, not to attack him. They are now not less than 60,000 strong, and fortified at Tullahoma, Stevenson and Bridgeport. There are no troops at Chattanooga. No infantry has appeared at Knoxville.

Provisions are moving from Virginia to Tullahoma. There is no doubt the rebels are suffering for want of provisions.

JOE JOHNSTON's headquarters are at Atlanta, Ga. BRAGG is in command of the army, and his headquarters are at Tullahoma.

NEWS FROM WASHINGTON.

The French Cotton and Tobacco in the Rebel Ports.

Fine Sanitary Condition of the Army of the Potomac.

OUR SPECIAL WASHINGTON DISPATCHES.

WASHINGTON, Sunday, March 29.

THE REBELS ON THE RAPPAHANNOCK.

One of your correspondents at Falmouth ridicules the story that the rebels have abandoned the line of the Rappahannock. He says the rebel camps are visible along the river a distance of four or five miles.

PAYING THE ARMY.

The business of paying off the Army of the Potomac will be finished this week.

FRENCH COTTON AND TOBACCO.

It is whispered in speculative circles that a correspondence is proceeding between our own Government and that of France, upon the subject of letting out tobacco and cotton belonging to French merchants in Richmond, Charleston, New-Orleans and Mobile.

THE WAR COMMITTEE.

Gens. FRANKLIN and GIBBONS were yesterday examined by the War Committee, in reference to the disaster at Fredericksburgh. Gen. FRANKLIN, it is understood, lays the blame of the failure there upon Gen. BURNSIDE. The Committee have now finished their testimony in relation to the Fredericksburgh affair, and will immediately commence the preparation of a report for the Press.

FORT LEAVENWORTH.

THE HEALTH OF GEN. HOOKER'S ARMY.

Gen. HOOKER says the amount of sick in the army is less than six per cent. Many regiments, six or eight hundred strong, have only two or three men on the sick list. Previous to his taking command the sickness was never less than ten per cent.

MILITARY COMMISSIONS.

The Secretary of War has signed the commissions of all military appointees confirmed by the Senate up to the close of the regular session. The commissions of those confirmed at the extra session have not yet received the signature of the President, but will engage his earliest attention.

REFUGEES FROM REBELDOM.

Refugees from Richmond continue to arrive in large numbers at our picket lines in front of Washington, as many as seventy having come into Union Mills in a single day. Many of them bring certificates, from the British consul at Richmond, declaring them entitled to protection on the ground of alienage, and the others are chiefly foreigners, Germans, French and the like. In accordance with orders from Maj.-Gen. HEINTZELMAN, admission within our lines is refused to all such persons, except they have a pass from his, or superior headquarters. Increased stringency is also shown in dealing with those resident within our lines upon whom any suspicion of collusion with the enemy can be fixed.

The appearance of these Southern refugees bears evidence to the extreme destitution which now oppresses the rebels. Most of them came plodding through the mud, barefooted and in tatters, bearing their scanty worldly effects in bundles on their backs; mothers leading children or wearily supporting the burden of infants wrapped within their arms.

One poor woman who arrived at Union Mills recently fell exhausted at the end of her painful journey and gave premature birth to an infant. She was kindly cared for by Gen. ALEX. HAYS, of CASEY's Division, in command at that post.

DECEASED PRISONERS.

In return for the courtesy of the rebels in forwarding us lists of Union prisoners who have died while confined in their prisons, our Medical Department has caused a similar list of rebel prisoners, who have died while in our custody, to be prepared with great care and forwarded to Richmond. It embraces about two thousand names, and is believed to be almost absolutely complete.

It is not supposed that the list furnished us by the rebels constituted a fifth of the number of our men who have actually died in their hands. The mortality in their prisons is known to have been much greater than in ours; and there are large numbers known to have been taken by them who can only now be accounted for on the supposition that they are dead.

GEN. PECK.

The rebel General LONGSTREET has not less than 30,000 troops on the Blackwater, in front of our vigilant and plucky PECK. Together at West Point—in Mexico together—but opposed on the Peninsula, and now watching to take each other at disadvantage, these two able Generals are regarded with interest at great distances from the arena where they are soon to struggle. There are few commanders in our service so thoroughly and justly confided in as JOHN J. PECK. His system of picketing saved the Left Wing before Richmond. His defences, thrown up inconceivably quick, covered the retreat through the White Oak Swamp—and he was publicly complimented at Harrison's Landing by Gen. McCLELLAN, assuring President LINCOLN that to Gen. PECK the army owed the salvation of its trains in that hurried movement.

THE CASE OF COL. D'UTASSY.

By order of Gen. CASEY, the evidence, &c., in the case of Col. D'UTASSY is turned over to Judge-Advocate-General HOLT, who will order a Court as soon as possible. It is said that the War Department, since learning the nature of the charges against the Colonel, have determined to force him to stand trial, and if found guilty, make an example of him.

PROVOST-MARSHALS FOR PENNSYLVANIA.

The Provost-Marshals for the State of Pennsylvania will probably all be appointed to-morrow.

FOR THE GOOD OF THE CAUSE.

In the examination of a paymaster's account in the office of the Second Comptroller of the Treasury, the following declaration was set opposite the name of JAMES KENNEDY, Farrier, company B., Purnell Legion, Maryland volunteers, on the pay roll as received at the office. "Will not receive his pay for his services, having joined for the good of the cause and not for pay." Against which declaration the paymaster had noted "never paid."

SMALL-POX AMONG THE CONTRABANDS.

The small-pox prevails to an alarming extent among the contrabands congregated at "Contraband Camp." The poor creatures are dying off by dozens daily.

A COLORED ASPIRANT FOR MEDICAL HONORS.

Several days since, the Medical Department received an application from a person in Canada to be examined before the Medical Examining Board, in session in this city, preparatory to entering the medical corps of the army. Permission was of course granted, and the applicant told to come on and be examined. Before going before the Board it was necessary that the "permit" should be indorsed by Dr. SMITH, who did so without hesitation—the papers being handed to him by a respectable looking colored man, whom he supposed was the would-be Doctor's servant, never dreaming that the colored gentleman was himself the candidate. With the "permit" he presented himself to Dr. CLYMER, and asked to be examined, and appeared to be very much astonished when he found that it was not the custom of the Board to examine colored men for admission into the medical corps. The permission which he received from the Medical Department has been sent to the Secretary of War, with the request that it be revoked. Opinion is divided here as to the action which Mr. STANTON will take in this novel but inevitable case.

THE COLORED SOLDIERS.

The black brigades grow daily in favor with the Government, as with the people, and their formation will be vigorously encouraged. The following official report was received yesterday:

BEAUFORT, S. C., March 14, 1863.

Hon. Edwin M. Stanton, Secretary of War:

SIR: I have the honor to report that an expedition which I sent up St. John's River, Florida, consisting of the First Regiment South Carolina Volunteers, Col. T. W. HIGGINSON commanding, and a portion of the Second South Carolina Volunteers, under Col. MONTGOMERY, captured and took possession of the town of Jacksonville on Tuesday, the 10th inst.

As I stated in my last report to you, the object of this expedition was to occupy Jacksonville and make it a base of operations for arming the negroes and securing in this way the possession of the entire State of Florida. It gives me pleasure to state that so far the objects of the expedition have been fully accomplished. The town is completely in our possession, and many prisoners. There has been constant skirmishing going on for several days, and in every action the negro troops have behaved with the utmost bravery. Never in a single instance can I learn that they have flinched.

It is my belief that scarcely an incident in this war has caused a greater panic throughout the whole Southern coast than this raid of colored troops in Florida. Negroes are collecting at Jacksonville from all quarters.

R. SAXTON,
Brigadier-General of Volunteers.

COURTS-MARTIAL.

A General Court-martial, convened at Yorktown, Va., Feb. 13, 1863, tried Capt. JAMES B. RONEY, One Hundred and Seventy-second Pennsylvania Drafted Militia, on charges of "drunkenness on duty," and "Neglect of duty as officer of the day." He was found guilty on both charges, and sentenced to be cashiered. The execution of the sentence having been suspended, and the proceedings forwarded for the action of the President, the following are the orders in the case:

The proceedings, findings and sentence in this case are approved. Upon the recommendation of the members of the Court, and of Major-Gens. DIX and KEYES, the sentence against Capt. RONEY is mitigated to suspension from rank, pay and emoluments for the term of ninety days from this date.

OFFICERS DISMISSED.

By order of the President, the following officers belonging to New-York regiments have been dismissed the service:

Second Lieut. CORTLAND VAN RENSSELAER, One Hundred and Forty-eighth Regiment New-York Volunteers.

First Lieut. JOHN D. LEE, Quartermaster First New-York Mounted Rifles.

RESTORED TO DUTY.

By order of the Secretary of War, Surgeon D. C. AYRES, Seventh Wisconsin Volunteers, who was recently dismissed the service, has been restored to his command, provided the vacancy has not already been filled.

CAPT. MULLAN.

Capt. JOHN MULLAN, U. S. A., has been appointed Commissioner in the City of New-York for the Walla Walla and Pacific Railroad Company in Washington Territory.

DEATHS OF SOLDIERS.

Among the deaths of soldiers reported to-day are the following:

William Jouffe, Thirtieth New-York.
William Young, Seventy-sixth New-York.
E. W. Whitmore, Fifth Maine Artillery.
C. A. Tower, Fifth Michigan.
James Butt, Seventh Michigan Cavalry.

THE UNION MEETING.

Hon. DANIEL S. DICKINSON, who arrived here to-day, it is expected will address the grand Union Meeting here on Tuesday.

ACCIDENT TO PRINCE SALM SALM.

While riding at a hurdle race, a few days ago, near Falmouth, Prince SALM SALM was thrown from his horse and severely injured.

DISPATCHES TO THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

WASHINGTON, Sunday, March 29.

THE NEGRO EXPEDITION IN FLORIDA.

An official dispatch from Gen. SAXTON, received at the War Department, confirms the heretofore reported success of the negro expedition to Florida, under Cols. HIGGINSON and MONTGOMERY.

THE HEALTH OF GEN. GRANT'S ARMY.

Maj.-Gen. GRANT, in a letter to Surgeon-General HAMMOND, dated Headquarters, Department of Tennessee, before Vicksburgh, which has been received here, says as to Surgeon J. R. SMITH's inquiry into the sanitary condition of his army, for its improvement:

"I know a great deal has been said to impress the public generally, and all officials particularly, with the idea that this army was in a suffering condition, and mostly from neglect. This is most erroneous. The health of this command will compare favorably with that of any army in the field, I venture to say; and every preparation is made for the sick that could be desired. I venture the assertion, that no army ever went into the field with better arranged preparations for receiving sick and wounded soldiers than this. We have hospital boats expressly fitted up, and with the Government and voluntary supplies, it is a great question whether one person in ten could be so well taken care of at home as in the army here."

ANOTHER ARRIVAL OF INDIANS.

A delegation comprising seven chiefs of the Ute Indians, from Colorado Territory, have arrived in Washington for the purpose of making a treaty. They are wild, and, like their immediate predecessors from the Plains, came by invitation of the Government. But being hostile to the latter, these Utes, by arrangement, traveled hither separately. The Commissioner of Indian Affairs will doubtless meet with much success in his stipulations with the savages, to render more safe travel to the mines.

SWISS OFFICERS IN WASHINGTON.

Gen. TOGBARDY, of the Swiss Army, who comes on a special mission from the Republic of Switzerland to learn the state of military arts in this country, was, with his Staff, entertained at dinner yesterday by the Secretary of State. The Secretary of War, and Mr. HILTZ, the respected Consul-General of Switzerland, were of the party.

Speech of Gen. Burnside on His Arrival at Cincinnati.

MY FRIENDS: I beg to thank you for the very kind manner in which you have received me, and I take it as being the more complimentary since I have come home among my own people.

It is gratifying to me, because it seems to say that I have, in your opinion, done my duty. I come to you with full and abiding faith in the success of our cause. I have seen many and many dark hours in my soldier's experience, but in my darkest hours I have felt that the right will prevail. I know that we have the physical ability to put down this rebellion, and if I doubted that, I should still feel that there is a God who will sustain the right.

But I do believe that we have the strength and the ability to put down a rebellion which originated in fraud, deceit and ambition. It originated in fraud when the Southern leaders stole from the Government its arms and its arsenals, and were conspiring to its ruin while they were subsisting on its substance.

If you show me a Southern leader, or a Southern sympathizer, I say then we have an ambitious man, and the time has come when we must fight against ambition, when we must take as firm a stand against it as against the rebellion itself. Again, gentlemen, I thank you.

AFFAIRS IN ENGLAND.

Marriage of the Prince of Wales—Confusion in the City—Illuminations and Disasters—Queer Devices—Trouble Coming in Lancashire—The Condition of England—Aristocracy, Middle Class, Laborers and Paupers—Wages of Labor—Political Condition—Suspense About America

From Our Own Correspondent.

LONDON, Saturday, March 14, 1863.

The Prince of Wales is married. This is the great event of the week. The reception of the Princess of Denmark and her passage through London were safely accomplished, though an unmanageable crowd of more than a million of people in the city, and chiefly from London Bridge to the Mansion House, caused long delays, and great difficulties to locomotion. The Princess, who is much more beautiful than any of her pictures represent her, with a clear complexion, a rosy flush, and a countenance of cheery animation, looking more like an American than an English girl, had an experience of an English crowd—not to say mob—which must have been rather startling, and she saw more people gathered to receive her in London than the entire population of her native Denmark.

The procession, as usual here, was absurd and unimpressive, and had to divide the dense masses of people like a wedge slowly driven through them. Men surrounded the royal carriage, clambered upon it, and walked between the horses. After passing Temple Bar, the long line of the civic carriages was left behind, and the pressure was much less. As a show it was a failure, but the people and their demonstrations were worth seeing.

There are indications that very troublesome times are coming in Lancashire. The people are growing irritated at their compulsory idleness and pauperism. They are shut up, and indeed locked up, in schools; even old men of 70 or 80. The relief is doled out to them as if they were common paupers—the clothes contributed to them are stamped as "lent," so that they cannot sell or pawn them. They are beginning to hold meetings, and express themselves strongly upon their grievances. Mr. COBDEN told the Government the other day in the House of Commons that much harder times were coming to them than they expected. I think he is right.

The condition of England does not seem to me at any time a hopeful one. It is pleasant enough for the aristocracy—the upper and wealthy class, who number 1,000,000. These have ample and assured incomes, and no necessity for labor or exertion. They have only to govern the nation with whatever wisdom they may happen to have, and amuse themselves. The great middle class of merchants, professional men, clerks, &c., are also tolerably well off. Of these there are no less than 9,000,000, with incomes averaging $750 a year for each family, or $150 a head. Were the nation composed only of these ten millions, it would be a very comfortable one. But now we come to a lower stratum, the great laboring class of operatives, mechanics, and agricultural laborers, who have no property, and are dependent upon their daily work for daily bread. They number 18,000,000, and their wages, in the best of times, do not average more than $4 a week, and this in a country where provisions are much dearer than in America, and where the taxes amount to nearly $400,000,000 per annum. The wages of agricultural laborers are 15 shillings a week, on which a whole family must live, and if lost time is reckoned, they probably do not average $3 50 a week. Even some of the employes of the Government are very poorly paid. Letter carriers have from $3 75 to $5 a week. Policemen have $5 a week. The better classes of mechanics get $6 a week, and a very few, in branches requiring special skill, or involving special hardship, get as high as $10 or $12 a week. These, however, are few and far between. The average income of the eighteen millions of the working people of the United Kingdom is three shillings, say 80 cents a head per week, and for this they must get rent, clothing, food, and whatever luxuries they are able to enjoy.

Below this class, which is always on the verge of pauperism, and a great portion of which can look forward to no end but the poorhouse, there is the class of actual paupers, which is the same in number as that of the aristocracy—1,000,000—now somewhat larger, by reason of the cotton famine.

Americans have no proper appreciation of their own advantages, in having a boundless territory, a fertile soil, and an independent people. And it is no wonder that the governing classes in England, which are the aristocracy and about half the middle class, are afraid of giving political power to the lower classes. What would become of England, were suffrage extended to her laboring population of eighteen millions? How long would they pay a revenue of three or four hundred millions of dollars every year for the support of a million of nobles and landlords? But there is no danger of any such extension. The great masses of the people of England have no more control over the Government of their country, or over their own condition, than the negro slaves of America. They are helpless and hopeless of anything but a gradual improvement. They are better off than they were twenty years ago, from a general increase of wealth, rise in wages, and some relief by emigration. Trade has brought capital, and capital has required labor. But let a rebellion in India, difficulties in China, or a war, which may grow out of the Polish revolution, strike a few more blows at the manufactures of England, like the cotton famine, and where would England be? A hopeless wreck upon the ocean—a prey to starvation and revolution. No nation is secure from war, pestilence or famine; but England seems to be less secure from some calamities than other countries. She is dependent for food upon importations from abroad. She is dependent upon the prosperity of her manufactures and upon her foreign trade for the ability to purchase the very meagre food of her population. You have read of the "roast beef of Old England." It comes from Belgium, France and Spain—much of it—but it is very certain that millions never taste it, and that half the population of the United Kingdom are too glad to get a bit of bacon for their Sunday's dinner—the only day on which they taste even that. It is droll enough to hear the very people talk about this roast beef, who do not taste a bit of it for months, and are scarcely able to get bread. You may offset this against the glorifications of the British Press on the occasion of the marriage.

Parliament, as you will see, still postpones any discussion of American affairs. Even the newspapers know not what to say. They are bothered by what appears to be a new turn of affairs, and a new phase of public opinion. They have looked upon the Democratic party of the North as a peace party. Now they are told that this party will go for the war with more vigor and earnestness than ever, rather than submit to the Southern ultimatum—the division of the Union. Besides, we have still to hear from Vicksburgh and Charleston. The story of preparations to burn the latter city does not show much faith in the ability of its defenders, but there is no place which cannot be taken, with the two elements of time and means. With them, any rebellion can be put down, and any country can be conquered.

MONADNOCK.

AFFAIRS IN GERMANY.

The Difficulties in Prussia—Obstinacy of the King—The Polish Insurrection—The War in America.

Correspondence of the New-York Times.

BERLIN, Monday, March 9, 1863.

The King of Prussia and his subjects have not yet come to an agreement upon the important questions which, during the past year, have been raised between them, and present appearances indicate that the prospect of a peaceable solution of the difficulty is daily decreasing. Parliament has now been in session nearly two months, and during this period the members of the Lower House have shown conclusively that they are not wanting either in that firmness of will, or that dislike of arbitrary power, which caused King WILLIAM to dismiss their predecessors so summarily in March last.

It was thought by many that the time intervening between the sessions would enable the King to form a more correct idea of the state of public opinion in his domains than he had before entertained, but exactly the contrary effect seems to have been produced. Listening only to the advice of a small circle of the nobility, who believe equally with himself in the doctrine of "Divine right," and trusting in his army to support him in any measure he may propose, King WILLIAM persists in believing that the party opposed to his arbitrary course is nothing but an insignificant faction, which it is beneath his royal dignity to attempt to conciliate. He seems to have no conception that the people of Prussia are determined to insist on the rights guaranteed to them by the Constitution, whether such is his pleasure or not; nor that they are convinced, moreover, that the true interests of the kingdom demand a reduction, rather than an increase, of the present immense army, to support which, even in time of peace, every Prussian must now give from three to five years of his life, and, indirectly, no inconsiderable portion of his income.

Some rulers may be in advance of the age in which they live, but WILLIAM I., of Prussia, is a fossil of the sixteenth century. From the day of his coronation, when he foolishly insisted on placing the crown upon his own head, he has continued to disregard the wishes of a loyal and patriotic people, devotedly attached to the family he represents, so that now, after a reign of two years, he is regarded only with distrust and dislike by the great majority of his subjects. Hence it is that the Lower House, to which belongs the right of deciding all financial questions of the kingdom, still refuses to vote a dollar toward the budget of last year, or that of the present year, until the people have some guarantee that their money will not be used for their own oppression.

While such a mutual distrust is existing between the King and his subjects, the Polish insurrection has broken out, and as it is rapidly assuming the proportions of civil war, it naturally excites great apprehensions among those nations which stand in intimate relations with that unfortunate people. The causes of the outbreak were from the first well known here, and sympathy for the Poles was expressed by nearly all classes. King WILLIAM, however, could not sympathize with such movements, and without waiting for even a suggestion from Russia, volunteered to assist in suppressing the revolt; and his troops are now on the frontier, where they have already rendered important services against the insurgents, while his Police are watching the Poles in Prussia and arresting all who are found with arms, or who show any intention of taking part in the struggle of their countrymen. This action of the King has excited intense indignation here and throughout the kingdom, and has rapidly widened the breach before existing between him and his people. The Chamber of Deputies at once strongly condemned the measure, and, in return, was still more strongly condemned by the King, who loses no oppportunity of showing his contempt for the Assembly, and, in fact, for all his subjects whose opinions do not coincide with his own. Where this increasing hostility between the King and the people will end, is yet uncertain; but it cannot last much longer. Many anticipate a renewal of the sad scenes of 1848; others are looking for an abdication in favor of the Crown Prince—who is thought to be liberal in his tendencies—while a few believe that the King will realize his danger before it is too late. Intelligence from Paris and London indicates, moreover, that the action of the Prussian Government has made the Polish question a European question, from which serious complications are certain to result, unless the treaty with Russia is speedily annulled. Those who are well qualified to judge assert, that King WILLIAM will risk a war rather than recede from the position he has assumed, and hence his decision is awaited with intense anxiety.

This state of affairs in Europe will not be without its influence on the war in America, and the proposed intervention, of which so much is said, is likely to be in favor of Poland, rather than the Southern Confederacy. That NAPOLEON has much sympathy with the Poles is well known, and it is generally believed here that he would willingly interfere in their behalf, if he could thereby provoke a war with Prussia, while weakened by her present domestic difficulties; since this would afford him an opportunity of easily avenging the humiliation which France received at the hands of BLUCHER, and of recovering the Provinces on the Rhine. However this may be, it is certain that so long as the political horizon of Europe presents so many indications of war as it does at present, no serious attempt at intervention in American affairs will be made.

ALBANY, Saturday, March 21, 1863.

My attention has been called to a printed circular of eight pages, addressed to the Surgeon-General of New-York, and signed by the Executive Committee of the United States Sanitary Commission, in which I am surprised to find that the Commission OPPOSE a measure which has been introduced into the Senate of this State, which provides for additional relief to the sick and wounded of our gallant soldiers on the field. I find the same communication from that honorable body in your columns of Friday, the 20th inst.

The United States Sanitary Commission cannot, I am sure, from the character of the men in whose care this important trust is confided, from their known acts of kindness to the soldier, and from the confidence reposed in them by the Government, design to put themselves in such a position. There must be, there is, misapprehension of the measure pending in the State Senate. I can account for it in no other way. They design to do good—that is their mission—and they seek, and ask and demand help in their good designs. They admit and deplore in this very communication to the Surgeon-General, the "inevitable defects" which exist in this important department of the army. Then why oppose and present objections to the measure introduced? Why conjecture the bill to contain obnoxious provisions, and then reply to them as if they really existed? Most of the communication is directed to the discussion of questions not at all involved in the bill—to questions which do not legitimately arise from it, or from its effects, if passed and put in operation. The criticism may possibly be directed to a bill published in the New-York Medical Times of last week, and there stated to be pending in the State Senate; the objections made, may, in a measure, apply to that. But that bill was never introduced in the Legislature of New-York, and is not in the hands of any of its Committees. The criticism is, therefore, unjust, and places alike the Sanitary Commission and the friends of the bill in a false position.

The measure pending in the Senate avoids all possible conflict between State and Federal authorities. Without the approval and coöperation of the latter, it is entirely inoperative. There can be no collision. The interests of both are harmonious—the end to be attained the same. Yet there is greater care provided and additional means placed at the disposal of those who are to assist in the discharge of these responsible duties. The United States Government has a general care of all its troops; the State has a care for all, but a special interest in its own. Not unlike that of a parent who visits, or sends a messenger to his son in the army, is the attitude of the State. And that is just what is proposed and designed in the bill. To send a few special messengers to examine into the care received by our sick and maimed. Gov. MORGAN has, during the past two years, executed this trust. Gov. SEYMOUR will not be behind him; and the aim and purpose is to systematize what all rejoice in having done. Is there any objection to this? None whatever. It receives a God-speed from every one. I will not believe the Sanitary Commission design to oppose it. If it does, has it been opposed to the efforts of Gov. MORGAN to relieve our sick and wounded by sending several of the most distinguished surgeons of our State to the hospitals below Washington and elsewhere, with a view to the general care of all, but with a special design to look after New-York State troops? Would it oppose sons visiting and watching over a parent in hospital? The report of the Surgeon-General gives us the names of Surgeons WOOD, POST, the SMITHS, PARKER, MARKOE, BUCK, KRACKOWIZER, and others, of New-York City; PARKER, of Poughkeepsie; COGSWELL, VANDERPOEL, MEARCH, WILLARD, and others, of Albany; WINNE, of Buffalo; COCHRANE, KISSAM, OLCOTT and AYRES, of Brooklyn; besides many other skillful men from other parts of the State, who have been dispatched on these important missions during the past two years. And the hearts of relatives and friends were lighter in consequence.

They were sent at the time great battles occurred. The call will be again made for Volunteer Surgeons, and they will go again. They acted then in harmony with the General Government and its Medical Department, and there is nothing to prevent their doing so again. Will this be opposed by the Sanitary Commission?

Months intervene between battles, and the sick and wounded remain in hospital. Shall the State, during this interim, send its messengers to visit them—to generally look to the welfare of all, but especially to her own sons—or shall the wasting away by disease or recovery by care continue, without this special interposition and care and attention? Does the Sanitary Commission oppose this measure? I do not believe it. The ideal bill may have met with their opposition; the actual one cannot.

One objection urged against the bill I would gladly accept as well founded. It is this: That there is no need of the measure; that the remedy has been applied. Very true, it is time the occasion for complaints did not exist. But the communication of the Sanitary Commission dispels the illusion; they are "not [illegible] the special [illegible] correspondent of the New-York [illegible] at Vicksburgh, but a few days since, gave abundant evidence that personal observation and practical experience is far better, and much more reliable, than the theories of the best-intended and most devoted Committeemen.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

Henry Ward Beecher on New-England.

The young men of Brooklyn, thousands of whom are of New-England extraction, feeling that the claims of that section of our country for recognition and honorable mention can never be exaggerated, have invited Rev. HENRY WARD BEECHER, a son of Connecticut, to speak to them on the subject of the land of his birth.

He has consented to do so, and on Tuesday night, at the Academy of Music, in Brooklyn, will deliver an address, entitled "New-England—what shall we do with her?"

Major-Gens. FREMONT and WOOL, with their respective Staffs, will be present, and the famous band of the Seventh Regiment will discourse its most patriotic airs.

Funeral of Mrs. Henry C. Bowen.

The funeral of Mrs. LUCY MARIA, wife of HENRY C. BOWEN, who died suddenly on Wednesday last, took place at Plymouth Church yesterday afternoon. The occasion drew together a very large audience, and the services were of an unusually solemn and impressive character. After a hymn by the choir, and the reading of appropriate selections from the Scripture, by Rev. Dr. BUDDINGTON, Rev. HENRY WARD BEECHER addressed the audience briefly, and paid a feeling tribute to the memory of the deceased. No calamity outside of his own family, he said, could come so near to him as the death of this Christian woman. It was her hand that was first stretched out to him on his arrival in Brooklyn; and under her hospitable roof he spent his first hours among this people. And, during the long years of his subsequent acquaintance with her, he had ever found her a good neighbor, a faithful wife, a kind and affectionate mother, and a sincere and devoted Christian. As her life had been calm and peaceful, so was her departure as "sweet as the flying of a bird that sings while it flies." The example of her blameless life, and the admonition of her sudden death was impressively set before his hearers by the Pastor, who was himself deeply affected while speaking. Rev. Dr. STORRS followed in a touching and beautiful prayer, and Mr. BEECHER pronounced the benediction. The body was then removed to Greenwood Cemetery.

Before Justice Moncrief.

Woodbury B. Purinton vs. Edward Willets.—This was an action against the defendant as survivor of Stephen and Edmond Willets, to recover damages for the alleged non-delivery of certain shares of the capital stock of the Farmers and Mechanics' Bank of New-Brunswick, N. J.

The plaintiff sues as Assignee of Wildes P. Walker, alleging that in the month of June, 1850, the defendants' firm lent and advanced to Walker the sum of $2,500, payable on demand, taking as collateral security for the loan 250 shares of the stock named, which was, as alleged, then worth $20 per share, and that in July of that year, Walker and the defendant's firm, through the agency of one Jeremiah Hotchkiss, who acted as defendant's broker, entered into an agreement for the repayment of said loan on the redemption of the stock pledged, the defendants agreeing to take the promissory note of one A. B. Trifler for the sum of $2,000, payable in ninety days, and the sum of $300 in money at the time of the agreement; and the further sum of $1,100 on the 15th of the same month, and $1,100 on the 30th of the same month.

It was claimed that Walker paid the $1,100 to be paid on the 15th, and subsequently obtained an extension of time on the last payment from 30th July to 6th August. Before the expiration of the extended time the plaintiff claims to have become Walker's assignee, and alleges that the defendant's firm refused to accept the final payment of $1,100, and to deliver the stock.

Damages were claimed in the sum of $5,000, with interest thereon from the 6th of August, 1850, the plaintiff asserting that since that date the stock has been worth $25 per share. The defendant denies that their firm ever loaned Walker the money alleged, and all other allegations respecting that party, averring that they advanced the money to TRIFLER upon the application of one JAS. HOTCHKISS, a money-broker, receiving on deposit a certificate for the stock in question. The answer sets forth that $300 was paid on each loan by TRIFLER at one time and $1,100 at another, and that TRIFLER gave them two of his notes for $700 each, to be paid in ninety day, and when paid, to apply on the payment of the loan. That they were never paid. Defendant admits that in connection with another loan transaction for TRIFLER, they credited him with $500 on account of the loan in question, and asserts that that is all that was ever paid.

The complaint was dismissed.

F. A. Churchill for plaintiff; R. H. Bowne for defendant.

MONDAY, March 30—A. M.

During the last week the Treasury of the United States received about nine millions, from the following sources:

From conversion of United States Notes of legal tender into the Funded 6 ⅌ cent. Stock of 1882, (redeemable at the pleasure of the Government after five years)	$5,500,000
From Customs	1,500,000
From Internal Taxes	2,000,000
Together	$9,000,000

These large receipts have left the New-York office with a larger balance by over three millions than at the close of the week. In the course of the present week the Government will disburse from its Specie balances about $3,066,000, being the 1st of April interest due on the October and April issue of the 7.30 ⅌ cent. Treasury Bonds of 1861-'64. This issue amounts to $84,000,000, and the August and February issue to $56,000,000. The holders of the April coupon will receive nearly fifty ⅌ cent. premium in Currency for their checks on the Treasury payable in Gold Coin; the present rate for Gold being 143¼ ⅌ cent., or 11 ⅌ cent below that of Saturday week, and 30 ⅌ cent. lower than about the close of February. The extreme decline last week was 15 ⅌ cent., large sales being made at 139@138½, from which there was a recovery at the close of the week, partly on a demand from one or two large houses interested in checking the further rapid depreciation of their heavy stocks of Foreign and Domestic Merchandise. One of these houses is said to have sent abroad about half a million of dollars. The whole shipments of the week, however, are only $1,050,000, owing to the relatively cheaper rates for Bills of Exchange, which had been held here on speculation to represent the large shipments of Gold made on the first decline of 15@20 ⅌ cent. three weeks ago. Another cause of the partial recovery in Gold on Friday and Saturday was in the adverse rumors (on Southern authority, perhaps) of repulses on the Yazoo and Mississippi Rivers. Similar rumors had previously run the price up to 145 ⅌ cent., but only for half an hour or so, the rate returning to 140@139 ⅌ cent. The great fall from 173 to a point below 150 created so much of a panic feeling in Cotton, and on the Corn Exchange, and in staple merchandise of nearly every description, both Foreign and Domestic, and finally (with the large diversion of Money into the Public Stocks) on the ordinary Share and Bond lists of the Stock Exchange, that all these interests were rather solicitous than otherwise to check the decline in Gold when it fell below 140 per cent. The Exchange market ruled generally through the week below the relative price of Gold, owing to the previous accumulation referred to.

The Import entries of the week were on a moderate scale, and largely below the same week last season. But the Customs (mostly now paid in Gold) were, nevertheless, $1,101,600 at this port alone. The value of the Export clearances of Domestic Produce also falls below the previous week, though largely in advance of the same week last Spring. There is no observable change in the easy supply of Money at 6 ⅌ cent. to the Stock Brokers, while there is more demand for Merchant paper from the Bill Brokers. This is owing to the check to general trade and the depression in Currency values, from the fall in Gold and the increasing disposition to employ Bank balances in the Government Stocks. This last-named cause has also affected, to the extent of 5@8 ⅌ cent., many of the 7 ⅌ cent. Railway Mortgages and Dividend Shares on the Stock Exchange, and reduced the closing quotations on the ordinary speculative Share list, with one or two exceptions, from 3 to 5 ⅌ cent., as will be noticed by reference to the following table of the

The demand for Gold Coin on Saturday was firmer, and the price higher than at the close of business on Friday night. The Stock Market was also firm, especially through the early Regular Board, with a further advance on several of the Railway Shares. At the 1 o'clock Public Board there was rather a pressure to sell at the advance, and the price of Erie gave way to 75½@¼ ⅌ cent. But later in the day the market recovered on Erie, and was higher on New-York Central, Hudson and Harlem. The last named was much excited in the afternoon, and sold as high as 42½ ⅌ cent. The Westerns were generally steady. Pacific Mail Shares firm. At 4 o'clock the following were about the quotations. In Governments the demand was steady. A buyer for European account took $100,000 5 ⅌ cents of 1874 at 97½ ⅌ cent.:

We find the following financial items in our English files by the Asia, to March 14:

The return from the Bank of England, for the week ending the 11th of March, gives the following results when compared with the previous week:

Rest	£3,666,336	Increase	£7,158
Public Deposits	8,673,899	Increase	637,896
Other Deposits	13,282,605	Decrease	85,481

And on the other side of the account:

Gov't Securities	£11,193,588	Increase	£48,817
Other Securities	19,805,739	Increase	166,705
Notes unemployed	8,872,550	Increase	305,710

The amount of notes in circulation is £19,228,205, being a decrease of £461,980; and the stock of bullion in both departments is £14,328,178, showing a decrease of £176,339, when compared with the preceding return.

The monthly return of the Bank of France was published in the Moniteur of this morning. It is generally satisfactory. The stock of bullion has been enlarged to £13,760,000, being £2,166,000 more than last month, but there is only a small increase in the current deposits. The discounts have fallen off £2,456,000, and the advances £1,340,000, the effect being to diminish the circulation £2,053,000. This denotes a languishing condition of trade; but the facts themselves justify the reduction in the rate of discount yesterday.

With reference to the market for American securities, Mr. E. F. SATTERTHWAITE reports as follows. "Since our last, business in American securities in London has been interrupted by two holidays; there has, however, been a fair amount transacted. The recent advices from America reporting exchange up to 188, without a corresponding increase in the quotations for securities, have caused a stoppage of the late demand for United States Bonds; the same cause has had the effect of depressing Erie and Illinois shares two dollars per share. In Railroad Bonds there have been few transactions, except in Atlantic and Great Western First Mortgage, (Pennsylvania section,) the price of which is firmly maintained."

Mr. HADERMANN, Editor of the Frankfort Volks-Freund, has been sentenced to a fortnight's imprisonment for calling Mr. ERLANGER, a banker of this place, a thief and swindler, because he was a large stockholder in a gambling bank at Hamburg. The Court decided that though an institution might be of an objectionable character, the Editor could not describe a stockholder of the same as a thief or swindler. This Mr. ERLANGER is the man who is reported to be the negotiator of the Confederate loan.

GENERAL MARKETS.

NEW-YORK, Saturday, March 28, 1863—6 P. M.

The receipts of the principal kinds of produce since our last have been: 26 bbls. Ashes, 5,553 bbls. Flour, 592 bbls. and 1,222 bags Corn Meal, 2,185 bushels Wheat, 1,818 bushels Corn, 450 bushels Rye, 1,067 bushels Barley, 14,435 bushels Oats, 750 bushels Malt, 12,163 pkgs. Provisions and 692 bbls. Whisky.

ASHES—Are inactive, and Pearls are altogether nominal. Pots, $7 37½@$7 50 ⅌ 100 lbs. Stock in the inspection Warehouse this morning, 401 bbls., including 388 bbls. Pots and 13 bbls. Pearls.

BOOTS AND SHOES—Business has been limited during the past week, buyers having been deterred from operating freely, by the rapid fall in Gold. Holders, however, have generally been quite firm in their views, and unwilling to make any material reduction in prices. The Boston Commercial Bulletin of this morning says: "There is but a moderate amount of trade in Boots and Shoes, for though there are a good number of dealers—including several from Chicago—now in the market, they operate cautiously, and take only small lots as wanted to make up an assortment. Still there is no disposition to concede on the part of holders, and prices are very firm amid the general crash in the other departments of merchandise. The high price and cash terms of stock, the large Government orders to be filled, (amounting probably to 1,000,000 pairs,) and the prospective scarcity of workmen in view of the conscription and other seasonable employments, all tend to produce this result in spite of Gold depreciation."

COAL—Foreign has been less abundant, and in fair demand, at buoyant prices. Anthracite has been quiet, at about previous rates. The Philadelphia Inquirer says: "The inactive condition of the market noted for weeks past still continues, and no prices can be fixed until the rates of freight by the Reading Railroad have been promulgated for the ensuing year. A few cargo sales have been effected at Richmond, at $4 50 ⅌ ton, free on board."

FISH—All kinds have been in limited request, at generally reduced prices, including dry Cod at $4 90@$5 30 ⅌ cwt.; Mackerel at $10 75@$17 50 for No. 1; $8@$9 50 for No. 2, and $5@$6 75 for No. 3, ⅌ bbl. Pickled Herring at $3 50@$5 25 ⅌ bbl. Smoked Herring at 35c.@38c. for Scaled, and 26c.@28c. for No. 1, ⅌ box.

FLOUR AND MEAL—State and Western Flour has been in pretty fair demand at advancing prices. The reported sales since our last have been 14,150 bbls., including Superfine State and Western at $6 20@$6 40; poor to choice extra State at $6 40@$7 00, chiefly at $6 45@$6 65; round-hoop extra Ohio, shipping brands, at $7 00@$7 25 ⅌ bbl.

Superfine State and Western	$6 20	@$6 40
Extra State	6 40	@ 7 00
Extra Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, &c.	6 50	@ 8 75
Extra Ohio, round-hoop, ship'g br'ds	7 00	@ 7 25
Extra Ohio, trade brands	7 30	@ 8 75
Extra Genesee	7 10	@ 8 75
Inferior to Choice Extra Missouri	7 00	@ 9 50

Southern Flour is doing better; sales 1,600 bbls., at $7 35@$7 60 for poor to good superfine, $7 65@$8 75 for fancy to choice brands, and $8 80@$10 for very superior family brands, ⅌ bbl. Canadian Flour is improving; sales 600 bbls. Extra, at $6 55@$8 75 ⅌ bbl. Rye Flour is quiet at $3 40@$5 40 for fine and superfine, ⅌ bbl. Corn Meal is in request at $4 15@$4 20 for Jersey, and $4 90@$5 00 for Brandywine, ⅌ bbl.

GRAIN—Wheat has been in more request, but at prices which have been unsatisfactory to holders; business has consequently been much restricted. Sales 31,000 bushels, including White Western at $1 90; Amber do. at $1 72½@$1 75, and Amber Jersey at $1 70@$1 72½ ⅌ bushel. Corn has been in more demand at buoyant rates. Sales since our last, 81,000 bushels, at 87c.@90c., in store and delivered, for shipping Mixed Western; 83c.@86c. for Eastern do.; 80c.@83c. for Unsound, and 95c. for Yellow Western, ⅌ bush. Rye is in demand at $1 02@$1 08, according to quality, ⅌ bushel. Sales 3,000 bushels. Oats are in good request, including Canada, at 84c.@86c.; Western at 85c.@87c.; State at 85c.@87c. ⅌ bushel. Barley is attracting more attention, at $1 40@$1 52½ ⅌ bushel.

HOPS—New are in moderate demand, at 20c.@26c., according to quality, ⅌ lb.

HIDES—Opened tamely, but closed with a livelier inquiry, holders having made some [illegible] to buyers. The week's [illegible] hides; sales, 46,900 hides, including, according to Messrs. WEIZEL & WEIDEMEYER, 17,000 Buenos Ayres, part to arrive, 20@22lbs., 27½c.@30c., cash, usual selection; 20,700 Rio Grande, part to arrive, 20@23 lbs., 26c.@29c., cash, usual selection; 600 Aspinwall, 19 lbs., 25c., cash, usual selection; 1,100 Porto Cabello, 21 lbs., on private terms; 5,000 City Slaughter, 60@85 lbs., 10½c.@11¼c., cash, rejecting bad hides; 2,500 Country Slaughter, 60@80 lbs., 10½c.@11¼c., cash, rejecting bad hides. Stock in importers' and speculators' hands: 223,600 dry Hides, 2,500 wet salted do.

HEMP—Has been dull and unsettled in price.

IRON—Has been very quiet, including Scotch Pig, at $39@$40, and No. 1 American at $34@$34 50 ⅌ ton. The Philadelphia North American, of this morning, says: "There is very little inquiry for Pig metal, and the market is less firm, but there is not much doing, as most of the makers are sold up and not disposed to contract. The sales are limited to small lots anthracite on the spot at $36@$37 for good No. 1, and $34@$35 for Nos. 2 and 3; cash and four months. Scotch Pig is quiet. For Manufactured Iron the demand continues active, and prices of bars and rails very firm."

LEATHER—The business of the week. Messrs. H. D. HULL & Co. notice thus: "For Hemlock Sole the market has ruled quiet throughout the week, under a very limited demand from any section, and the amount of business done has been comparatively small. The rapid decline in prices for the raw material has had a depressing influence on the market for the manufactured article, and toward the latter part of the week some of the trade, to effect sales, have made some concessions from late rates; but most holders, in view of their light stocks and prospective receipts are comparatively firm in their views, and anticipate no permanent decline in prices. Quotations must be considered in a great measure nominal. Receipts from the tanneries continue only moderate, and there is consequently but little accumulation of stock. For Oak Sole there continues a fair demand at full figures, with a light stock on hand. Upper in the Rough is also in good request, and prices firm."

LIME—Rockland has been plenty and depressed, at 90c. for Common and $1 15 for Lump, ⅌ bbl.

LUMBER—Eastern Spruce and Pine find ready buyers, at buoyant prices.

OILS—A moderate business has been reported in Lard Oil, at 85c.@95c.; and in Petroleum, at 34c.@38c., free, for refined; and 20c.@21c. for Crude ⅌ gallon. Other kinds have been inactive and depressed. The Oil City Register, of the 19th inst., says of the Oil business of that district: "The market still continues active, with a fair amount of transactions. Prices range about the same as last quotations. The general selling price during the past and present week has been $1 25@$1 50 ⅌ bbl., at the wells and firm. We can do no better than to give this as the ruling quotation. We have three new wells to report, viz.: A well belonging to a Mr. HEBBARD, on the McIlhenny Farm, of about 200 bbls. ⅌ day; one belonging to MCKINLEY & PERDOE, on the McClintock Farm, of 150 bbls.; and one on the Buchanan Farm, that runs 10 bbls. of black oil. In addition to this we have to notice an increase in both the Phillips and Woodford Wells, the latter still throwing 'yellow,' or 'musk oil,' as it is called. It appears that on Wednesday last, the sucker rods were drawn from the tubing of the Phillips Well, and the pressure being thus removed, the well commenced flowing, at the rate, it is estimated, of about 1,600 bbls. per day. The Woodford Well was treated in a similar manner, and immediately commenced flowing at about the same rate. The James Well, in the immediate vicinity of these, decreased very materially, but is still flowing a little green oil. This is all the change in the wells we have to notice. Buyers are plenty in the market, and seem anxious to get a supply of oil for present use, but would buy more extensively if the figures demanded by holders were lower. A small amount has gone forward by the river, but the bulk of the shipments are to the railroad. The depth of water in the channel is about 26 inches, and falling slowly. The weather is cool, pleasant and cloudy. Freights to Pittsburgh, $1. Second-hand barrels, $2. (The quotation should have been at this figure in our last. report.) Good second-hand barrels bring this price very readily. Prime new, $2 25@$2 50. The market closes firm at the figures above quoted."

PROVISIONS—Pork has been in more request, and sales have been made of 1,200 bbls., at $13 50@$13 75 for old Mess, $16@16 12½ for new Mess, and $11@$13 37 for old and new Prime, ⅌ bbl. Cut Meats are in demand, at 6¾c.@8c. for Hams, and 5c.@6c. for Shoulders, ⅌ lb. Bacon is inquired for, at 6¾c.@8¼c. ⅌ lb.; sales 820 boxes. Lard is advancing; sales 1,670 tcs. and bbls., at 9¾c.@11c. ⅌ lb. Beef is more sought after; sales since our last, 390 bbls., at $12 25@$13 50 for Extra Mess, and $11@$12 25 for Plain Mess, ⅌ bbl. Prime Mess, $21@$22 50 ⅌ tierce; India Mess, $22 50@$24 ⅌ tierce. Beef Hams, $14 50@$16 ⅌ bbl. Butter is in demand, at 17c.@21c. for poor to choice Western, and 21c.@28c. for common to very choice State, ⅌ lb. Cheese has been in request, at 12½c.@14½c. ⅌ lb.

SALT—Has been dull, thought stiffly held.

SPICES—Have been quiet at declining prices.

SEEDS—All kinds have been quiet to-day. Clover is held at 8¾c.@9¾c. ⅌ lb., according to quality. The demand, however, is very limited, as buyers, especially for export, are reluctant to purchase freely at present, unless at reduced prices. Small lots changed hands at from 8½c. for common to 9¾c. for choice, ⅌ lb. Rough Flax has been quoted at $3 50@$4, and Timothy at $2 25@$2 37½ ⅌ bushel, with a limited inquiry.

SKINS—Deer have been quiet, buyers refusing to pay asking prices. Goat have been likewise lightly dealt in, from the same cause. The stock of Goat is very light, and prospective receipts meagre, enabling holders to maintain their views with firmness. Sales 1,200 Tampico, at 77½c.; 2,000 Matamoras, at 75c.@77½c., 4,000 Mocha Bleakheads, at 65c., cash, and 600 Tampico, to arrive, on private terms.

SUGARS—Sales, 630 hhds., including New-Orleans at 9¾c.@12c., and Cuba at 9⅞c.@10¼c. ⅌ lb.

WHISKY—Sales 700 bbls., in lots, at 45½c.@48c., the latter an extreme rate, ⅌ gallon.

WOOL—Buyers have been unwilling to operate unless at materially reduced prices, in view of the heavy fall in gold, but the principal holders have been reluctant to make any important concessions. Hence business has been much restricted. The week's sales comprise 74,000 lbs Domestic Fleece, at 85c.@$1, mainly 85c.@92c; 12,000 lbs. do., pulled, at 88c.@95c.; 50 bales California, 350 bales Donskoi, and 325 bales African, on private terms; 150 bales Cape, at 44c.@46½c. ⅌ lb. The Boston market has been very dull, but, according to the Boston Commercial Bulletin "while holders of outside lots in some cases manifest a disposition to concede a reduction of price, the regular trade nominally maintain previous rates, and basing their policy upon the small stocks of choice wools available for the next three or four months, and the certainty that at the present rate of consumption it will all be wanted by the end of that time, prefer waiting till the necessities of manufacture shall compel overtures rather than force sales at the present time. The inquiry is mostly for medium grades domestic fleece and pulled, for which 85c.@90c. is offered. The fact that all our armies in the field are soon to be reclothed has created a speculative demand for this description, and the large Government orders which are now being filled for army kerseys and flannels bid fair to very nearly exhaust the supply. Of pulled wools the stocks are very light and prices better sustained. They are nominally held at 90c.@95c. for extra, and 82c.@92c. for super grades. Sales of the week amount to 300,000 lbs. domestic fleece, including 30,000 lbs. New-York mixed, and 110,000 lbs. Pennsylvania and Ohio do., at 87½c.; 60,000 lbs. good medium fleece at supposed 89c.; and a select lot of 15@20,000 lbs. New-England, for army goods, at 92c. In foreign wools there has been no considerable movement during the week, and prices rule decidedly in favor of buyers, except for some of the coarser grades required for the manufacture of army blankets. The new clip of Mestiza, which is of excellent quality, is coming forward from Buenos Ayres, and held by importers at 37½c.@40c.—figures which are rather above the views of buyers. Old clip do. offering at 30c.@35c.; Cape (fine) 45c.@47½c.; Smyrna (fine washed) at 60c.@65c.; and Donskoi (do.) 47½c.@50c."... In Philadelphia, prices have declined 3c.@5c. ⅌ lb., for tub washed and fine fleece. Week's sales have been 75,000 lbs. domestic fleece at 85c.@$1, chiefly at 85c.@95c., cash, ⅌ lb.

FREIGHTS—Have been inactive, at irregular rates. For Liverpool, the engagements included 300 bbls. Flour at 1s. 6d.@1s. 9d. ⅌ bbl.; 10,000 bushels Corn, in bulk, at 4¾d. ⅌ bushel; 150 pkgs. Provisions at 16s.@17s. 6d. ⅌ ton. For Hamburg, 30,000 lbs. Tallow, by steamer. For Lisbon, a foreign bark; and for Oporto, a foreign brig, all on private terms. NEWS OF THE DAY.

THE REBELLION.

We published a brief dispatch, yesterday, from Cairo, which is corroborated this morning, giving a report, received viâ Memphis, that two divisions of our troops had entered the Yazoo River by way of the Sunflower, and that they had been landed at Eagle Bend, just above Haines' Bluff, and only a mile and a quarter from the rebel fortifications. This is, in a measure, contradicted by rebel dispatches from Vicksburgh, dated the 25th, which state that the expedition had been repulsed by batteries at the junction of Deep Creek and Sunflower Rivers, thirty-five miles above the junction of the latter with the Yazoo. Another rebel dispatch from Vicksburgh, backed by an official report, states that two of our gunboats attempted to pass the batteries at Vicksburgh, at sunrise on the morning of the 25th, and that one of them was sunk with all on board, while the other was badly riddled, and supposed to be in a sinking condition. Still another rebel dispatch states that another advance is being made against Fort Pemberton by the Yazoo Pass Expedition.

The fate of the Indianola is at last settled, by a dispatch from Admiral FARRAGUT to the Navy Department, dated below Warrenton, March 19. He states that about ten miles above Grand Gulf he saw the wreck of the Indianola, on the right bank of the river, partially submerged, and with her upper works very much shattered by explosion. So the story of her having been blown up in the fright caused by the appearance of Admiral PORTER's mock Monitor was no doubt literally true.

Whatever may be the strength of the rebel force said to have invaded Kentucky, its demonstrations thus far have certainly not been very formidable. A report reached Louisville on Saturday that two divisions of rebel infantry crossed the Cumberland on the day previous near Wailsburgh, in Pulaski County, but the authorities at headquarters in that city received no such information. A dispatch from Cincinnati brings the gratifying intelligence that Gen. GILMORE, with a strong National force, crossed the Kentucky River on Saturday, and recaptured Danville. At last accounts he was driving the rebels in the direction of Crab Orchard.

Parson BROWNLOW has arrived in Cincinnati from Tennessee, and reports that the rebels are concentrating all their infantry recently in East Tennessee, at Tullahoma, while their cavalry is to make a diversion in East Kentucky, with the hope of detaching a force from Gen. ROSECRANS' army. He states that reinforcements are also arriving at Tullahoma from Virginia.

A rebel dispatch from Chattanooga, dated the 25th inst., states that all was then quiet in Tennessee, no fighting having occurred since the defeat of MORGAN, near Milton.

A dispatch from Fortress Monroe reports two affairs of considerable importance with the enemy—one at Williamsburgh, Va., and the other at Wingfield, N. C., on the Chowan River. The rebels attacked Williamsburgh with cavalry and infantry yesterday morning, and were repulsed by the Fifth Pennsylvania Cavalry under Col. LEWIS. The enemy had retreated by noon. The casualties had not been ascertained at last accounts. An attack was also (date not stated) made upon Wingfield by the rebels, which was equally unsuccessful. The attacking force consisted of the Forty-second North-Carolina and BROWN's guerrillas, and the place was defended by a small detachment of the First North-Carolina (Union) Volunteers. The rebels were beaten off after a fight of an hour and a half. Reinforcements were subsequently sent by Gen. FOSTER from Plymouth, and by Gen. PECK from Suffolk, and the rebels were dispersed.

We have advices from South Carolina to Thursday last, by an arrival at Fortress Monroe. Up to that time no important movement had been made by our fleet.

A dispatch from Savannah, dated the 26th, indicates that our forces in Florida are active. They are said to have made a raid out of Jacksonville on the day previous, and to have torn up several miles of railroad. They were also on the move on the 26th, and a fight was expected.

We have a rebel report from Mobile, 25th inst., to the effect that official intelligence has been received there of the evacuation of Pensacola by the National forces, who now occupy only the Navy-yard and Forts Barrancas and Hyacinthe—the garrison of the town, and all others that could be spared, having been sent to Gen. BANKS.

The extra session of the Georgia Legislature assembled at Milledgeville on Wednesday last, and Gov. BROWN sent in a message, in which he recommends the restriction of the cotton planting to a quarter of an acre to each hand, under a heavy penalty. The necessity for this course is found in the possible scarcity of provisions. He recommends that further restrictions be put upon the distillation of spirits, so as to prevent the use of potatoes, peas and dried peaches for that purpose. He opposes the indorsement of the bonds of the Confederate States by Georgia, as calculated to impair the confidence of capitalists and injure the credit of the State at home and abroad. He says it could do the Confederacy no good. He nevertheless argues in favor of a cordial support of the Confederate Government and Administration. He desires the Legislature to devise the best plan for furnishing laborers for the coast defences, and recommends that the State cars carry corn to the destitute portions of the State.

The Navy Department has received positive intelligence of the destruction of the new rebel steamer Georgiana, off Long Island Beach, S. C., by our fleet. She was a powerful steamer, of 407 tons burden, and 150-horse power, and was considered more formidable than the Alabama. She left Liverpool on the 21st of January, and has since been at Nassau, N. P., fitting out to prey upon Northern commerce. She had two guns already mounted when she arrived there.

Still another valuable prize has been captured—the iron side-wheel steamship, Granite City, taken off the Bahamas, by the gunboat Tioga. She is about 400 tons burden, and was built in December last. She was last from Nassau, N. P., and arrived at this port last night, in charge of a prize crew. The Tioga has also captured a schooner, with a valuable cargo, and sent her to Key West.

The prize steamer Peterhoff, captured by the Vanderbilt, arrived at this port, on Saturday, from Key West. Her officers report having heard cannonading in the neighborhood of Charleston, but it is thought to have been only target firing.

A deserting rebel officer, who arrived in Vicksburgh on Friday, reports that the rebels are evacuating Richmond as fast as it is possible to do so quietly. This is in accordance with statements recently telegraphed to us from Washington. Advices from the Army of the Potomac, however, do not coincide with those from Washington regarding the movements of the rebels at Fredericksburgh. It is stated that during the week past they have, so far from falling back from the river, been increasing their forces by the addition of several regiments, and that balloon reconnoissances have established the fact that troops are arriving constantly by rail from Richmond. One of our Generals with the Army of the Potomac estimates the number of the rebel army opposite at 100,000.

The Washington Star, of Friday, states that no more passes are to be granted to visitors to the Army of the Potomac.

THE STATE LEGISLATURE.

In the Senate, on Saturday, a bill to provide a bounty for conscripts was reported favorably. A majority report was made in favor of allowing soldiers in the service of the United States to vote. The Broadway Railroad bill was considered. A motion prohibiting the operation of the road on Sundays was adopted. The amendment proposed by Mr. PRUYN, that the Governor and Senate appoint five Commissioners to build the road, and that the surplus profits be devoted to the Central Park and Croton Water Departments, was lost.

In the Assembly, the bill fixing the compensation of the members of the New-York Common Council at $2,500 per annum was passed; also the bill fixing the terms of office of heads of Departments in New-York. Among the bills reported favorably was one authorizing a horse railroad from Newtown Creek to Astoria, and the Senate bill fixing the number of Notaries Public in the State. A joint resolution to adjourn sine die on the 14th of April was introduced and laid over.

FROM EUROPE.

We have advices from Europe two days later, by the arrival at this port on Saturday of the steamship Asia. The dates are to the 15th inst. The news is important. The diplomatic correspondence, called for by Parliament, in reference to the war in America, had been issued. Mr. MASON's latest letters urge the English Government to declare the blockade of the Southern ports a nullity, or not to respect it, because it can be shown that the North has not been able to render it complete and total. The refusal of this application is cause of dissatisfaction to the South. The latest cause of dissatisfaction on the part of the North is that England has done too little to satisfy the National Government in the case of the Alabama. The London Times, in an editorial on this correspondence, says the irritation that may be traced in nearly an equal degree in both divisions—North and South—is of itself a proof that England has not unduly inclined to either side. The latest dates of correspondence leave both with no grounds for more than remonstrances, and both have much less to say against anything England has done than in favor of something they assert she ought to do. The Times reiterates its arguments in defence of the position of England in the matter of the Alabama. The Union and Emancipation Society of Manchester having sent a protest to Earl RUSSELL against fitting out vessels for the Confederates in England, Earl RUSSELL replies by pointing out that the act of Parliament requires evidence on oath to enable proceedings to be taken against parties suspected of contravening the law. It is asserted that irritation among the operatives in Lancashire was becoming very strong. They complain of the behavior of the Relief Committees, the administration of the Poor law, the enormous reduction in wages, and that the workman is sinking more and more deeply into the power of his employer by running into debt for rent. The rebel loan of £3,000,000 was expected to be introduced in London and Paris soon after the sailing of the Asia. The accounts from Poland, although vague, show conclusively that the revolution is assuming the most formidable proportions. The Revolutionary forces are said to have reached already some 50,000 men. The latest telegrams viâ Queenstown state that the Russians have suffered another defeat near Myserzcwo, losing 100 killed. The attitude of the French Government continued to be decidedly in favor of the Poles. An advance of ⅛d. per pound had taken place in Cotton in the Liverpool market. Breadstuffs and Provisions were quiet. Consols, 92⅛ for money.

GENERAL NEWS.

GEORGE TICKNOR CURTIS, Esq., addressed the Democratic Union Association, Saturday evening, on "Loyalty." He denied that in time of war the people are bound to accept, without question, the policy of the Government; but argued that constitutional means only—the ballot-box and free discussion—should be brought to bear to remedy the evils complained of.

It is confidently stated that Gov. GAMBLE, of Missouri, after consultation with prominent members of the Legislature and other citizens of the State, has decided to call the State Convention together, and submit the question of emancipation to it. Gov. GAMBLE, Lieut.-Gov. HALL, Hon. WM. A. HALL, and other prominent men, heretofore opponents of emancipation, have lately given in their adhesion to the movement, and declared their willingness to vote for an ordinance to effect it.

The price of Gold Coin on Saturday advanced to 143¼ ℘ cent. Stocks closed steady. Money easy to the Stock Brokers. Exchange 156@157 ℘ cent.

A livelier inquiry prevailed for the principal kinds of Breadstuffs and Provisions on Saturday; prices of Flour, Wheat, Corn, Oats and Hog products were decidedly firmer. Whisky was more sought after, and was advancing. Groceries were less freely purchased. Cotton was in limited request, at about previous rates. Hay, Tallow and Clover Seed attracted rather more attention. Other articles were lightly dealt in. Very limited freight engagements were effected. There were 433 vessels of all classes in port.

ANOTHER NAVAL EXPLOIT—THE GEORGIANA.—Admiral DUPONT is doing most excellent work in reducing the rebel navy—not to speak of the large number of prizes taken by his blockading squadron. On the 29th of January he captured the Princess Royal, an iron screw-steamer, of tolerable speed, which was intended, after discharging her cargo, to be joined to the rebel privateer fleet in the West India waters. On the 28th of February the iron-clads of his fleet destroyed the famous Nashville, which was all ready for a piratical cruise, and was literally in the act of running out on her errand. Now we have confirmation of the news that vessels of his fleet have destroyed off the South Carolina coast the rebel steamer Georgiana.

This was far the finest of the three vessels mentioned, and was undoubtedly the finest vessel in the so-called Confederate navy. A letter which we published on the 22d inst., from one of our West India correspondents, gave some account of her. At the date of that letter (the 15th) the Georgiana was at anchorage at Nassau, and she must have sailed very soon after, as a rebel dispatch from Charleston of the 23d inst. first mentioned her destruction by our fleet. She is described as a finely-modeled iron vessel, very fast, and armed. When she arrived at Nassau she had two heavy guns mounted; but she was to have a much greater armament after she delivered her cargo at Charleston. The Colonial Governor, at the request of our Nassau Consul, ordered her to be searched, and the report returned was, that she was an "armed merchantman," which furnished a very convenient dodge by which the authorities might evade the Neutrality laws. The Georgiana was one of the vessels built in England for the "Emperor of China," or of Dixie. Our correspondent wrote that there was not the least doubt of her being intended as a privateer.

Her destruction is a great triumph for our navy, and will be a cause of comfort to our mercantile marine. Commodore DUPONT deserves the applause of the whole country, which, indeed, he receives already, for the activity, skill and courage with which he manages naval operations on his line. He cannot entirely seal up the harbor of Charleston, but he accomplishes a vast amount of effective work, and in due time will probably bring down Charleston itself.

Unity in Support of the Union.

Upon one most important point our people seem to be just at present absolutely unanimous. Men of all parties seem to agree that, whatever else may happen, the Union must be preserved. We hear nothing now, from any quarter, of letting the South go in peace. Six months or a year ago there were thousands among us who were half inclined to regard the attempt to quell the rebellion as hopeless, and who were more than half inclined to end the war by conceding independence to the Southern States. We hear no such talk now. Even those who are most impressed by the magnitude of the struggle, and by the sacrifices which it costs to carry it on, seem to have become satisfied that if there is no way out of it except by disunion, it must be continued indefinitely. Thousands who would willingly grant the rebels large and liberal terms of peace, who would concede whatever they might demand in the nature of added guarantees and enlarged powers under the Constitution, who would even put the Government of the country into the hands of JEFF. DAVIS, and substitute the Montgomery Constitution for that of the United States,—even these men would not consent to a division of the Union. They will fight two, three or five years longer if necessary to prevent such a result.

This change in the public temper is the natural result of a public instinct. The people have come to see that a division of the Union is the destruction of the nation. We can live under a bad Government; but we cannot live without a country. It is easy to say that even if the South were to become independent we should still have left the elements of a powerful nation. That is true—but we should have lost the only thing which can combine these elements and weld their separate strength into national sovereignty and imperial power. We should have lost the sentiment of nationality, the binding force of the Constitution, the powerful charm that lives in the aspirations of a people for national grandeur. Each section and each State would be thrown back upon calculations of its own interest, and, in the absence of the stronger motive, its action would be decided by them. The South in possession of the Lower Mississippi, the West would have to consider through which channel it could best find access to the sea. The central States would seek the best market for their surplus products. Pennsylvania would go where she could best sell her iron and her coal. Each locality would consult its own conviction of its own separate and distinct interest.

The Union saves us from all this. It blends all interests into one common interest, and affords, moreover, for each the largest possible scope for its own development. Under the Union each section has access to all the others, and transit through them all without obstacles of any kind. The West can seek the sea by the Mississippi or by the Lakes. She can seek her markets at the South or in the East or in Europe. Pennsylvania and New-England find free access to every section where their manufactures are required. And the combined power of all the sections is at the service of each one for protection from internal violence and for defence against the world. The instinct of the American people fastens upon this as the only condition of national greatness and prosperity. It recognizes the Union as an absolute necessity, and will insist upon its preservation, therefore, at all hazards and at whatever cost.

This is a great point gained. So long as there was any considerable portion of our people willing to "let the South go," we were in danger of national ruin. So long as anything else was regarded as of more importance than the preservation of the Union,—so long as the maintainance of Slavery, or the abolition of Slavery, the writ of habeas corpus, or freedom of speech, was held to be more important than the salvation of the Union, we were exposed to very serious peril. We regard that danger as past. Our people are now united on this cardinal point of the contest. They will differ on other points. Some will support and others will oppose the policy of the Administration. Some will sustain while others will condemn the conduct of the war. Some will praise and others will denounce the President, the Cabinet, the Congress, and all others in authority. Some will advocate concessions, compromises, terms of peace,—while others will demand subjugation and unconditional submission as the only ground of peace. But all will unite, substantially and practically, in demanding that the Union shall be preserved.

More Delusive Prophecies.

We perceive, with great regret and apprehension, that various writers and orators have once more begun to prophesy that the war will be over by a certain day of a certain month. Only a week ago we learnt from one of these seers that the next Fourth of July was to dawn on a prosperous, peaceful and united Republic. We have no doubt that for the next quarter we shall have these predictions on every side, and have editors debating furiously whether it will be on the 11th or 13th day of the month that JEFFERSON DAVIS will try to make his escape into Cuba, and the Confederate Congress take refuge in the Dismal Swamp. "Reliable gentlemen" and "intelligent contrabands" will swarm in every town, with full, true and particular accounts of conversations overheard by them between rebel functionaries and their wives, wondering whether they will be hanged or only imprisoned if they surrender. The "backbone of the rebellion," flexible as it has shown itself to be, will be declared "broken" every time we capture an earthwork or occupy a village, and we shall have long discussions about the best manner of punishing the Southern leaders. Bellicose politicians will be found belaboring each other as to whether they will execute or only banish men who, at that very moment, will probably be surrounded by 200,000 soldiers—desperate, well-organized and well led.

We had hoped that there was an end to this sort of thing, and we protest earnestly against its recommencement. The influence of this prophesying on the public mind is evil, and only evil. We are naturally a sanguine people. Our climate, our history, our resources, and our energy, all tend to make us take hopeful views of public affairs. We are just now in very good spirits, and reasonably so. The world is wondering at the way in which we keep up our hearts, in the teeth of much disaster and disappointment. But we have just passed through a season of great doubt and despondency, which, we are satisfied, was due rather to the unreasonable expectations excited by the persistent and ridiculous bragging and predictions of a portion of the Press, than to the nature or extent of our reverses in the field. There was nothing in the loss of one, and that one the first campaign, to plunge a nation like this into despair, if their hopes had not been extravagant and unreasonable. There was some excuse for this readiness to fix the date of our final triumph a year ago, before the country had had any experience of the strength and persistence of the enemy, or of the proverbial uncertainties of war. But after what we have gone through, these prophecies are insults to the common sense of the public, and ought to be treated accordingly. It is just as absurd to attempt to fix the date of the extinction of the Confederacy, as the date of JEFFERSON DAVIS' death. We none of us know one whit more about the one than the other. What we do know is, that the rebels will resist as long as they can; but how long that will be, will depend upon the result of half a dozen battles not yet fought, and of one or two sieges not yet begun. We earnestly advise everybody who wishes to retain some little reputation for judgment, to leave the task of predicting the result of all these operations to the female necromancers of Greenwich-street and the Bowery.

We would warn the public, too, that the capture of both Vicksburgh and Charleston, and Richmond to boot, would not be at all likely to close the contest. It would no doubt hasten the end very materially, but it would not bring it. A war in which the combatants are earnest, brave and determined, is never ended by the capture of places, but by the destruction of armies. In so far as the capture of the two strongholds we are now besieging will tend to disperse or destroy the Confederate armies, they help to bring about the final collapse; but no further. If their falling into our hands does not render it more difficult for the forces of LEE and JOHNSON to keep the field, we are nearly as well without them.

It is our opinion that their fall will materially increase the difficulties attending the Confederate operations in the interior; but it will not render those operations impossible, and consequently will not bring the war to an immediate end. Before that comes, we shall have either to inflict on the main body of their forces two or three such crushing and decisive defeats as will make it impossible to rally or reorganize them; or else to fight double that number of such battles as we have hitherto fought, inflicting as well as suffering enormous losses, which we can repair, but which they cannot.

We have no doubt of the ultimate result, but we cannot tell whether we shall reach it this Summer or next Fall; and we cannot say that we shall even reach it next Spring. The lesson we have all to learn is, that our duty is in no way affected by times, or seasons, or dates. Our business is to fight on as long as may be necessary. Those who take upon themselves, just now, to instruct or encourage the public, have but one counsel to offer; and it is conveyed in WELLINGTON's words, when he was asked, at Waterloo, what his instructions were in case he fell: "To stand here to the last man."

THE CITY RAILROADS.—The contest at Albany over the Broadway Railroad seems to be taking the usual course. It is simply a struggle between two or three different rings as to which shall have the gratuitous grant of this enormous franchise. Senator PRUYN's proposition to create a Railroad Commission, with full power to build such roads as the public convenience may require, and to operate them for the benefit of the City, is the most rational suggestion which has yet been made on this subject. But no one has an interest in its success sufficiently direct to enable him to interest members in voting for it; hence it will probably fail. If the franchises which are given away in this City were carefully husbanded by our City and State authorities, they could easily be made to pay half the expenses of our City Government.

A Matter Worth Noting.

The fact that all through this terrible struggle for the life of the Republic, the work on the new Capitol has not been suspended for a day—not even when the enemy were intrenched for months almost within drum-beat—will, hereafter, point the line of many a poet and historian. But it is not so grand after all as the other fact, that all of our higher class of benevolent institutions have still held on their blessed way with nearly or quite all their wonted strength and efficiency. Notwithstanding the distractions of the public mind by the dreadful anxieties for the fate of the country—notwithstanding the great depression of most branches of trade and industry—notwithstanding the extraordinary calls made upon the people, and nobly responded to, in behalf of the soldiers and their families—yet the great philanthropic enterprises of our City, and of the North generally, have been sustained in their glorious work, almost as if it were a day of universal peace and prosperity. It is a singular and most admirable feature of these "war times."

We were particularly struck with this in looking over the Tenth Annual Report of the Children's Aid Society, just published. Here is an association almost without endowment, dependent almost entirely upon current subscriptions and contributions for its support, reporting that "the receipts and payments for the last year have been greater than any previous year. The donations have been more numerous, and yet larger sums have been received from a few individuals than ever before." No special efforts have been made to secure such a result. It has come from the spontaneous feeling in the hearts of good men, that, in this troublous period, the great agencies which have to do with the purification of society, instead of being suffered to languish, should be strengthened more than ever.

We cannot wonder that this Children's Aid Society should have been thus specially favored. It is not at all invidious to say that it has peculiar claims upon the public; for it is certain that no benevolent enterprise ever accomplished so much practical good with so small an expenditure, as has this Society, under the admirable management of its Secretary, CHARLES L. BRACE, its efficient agents, and its faithful Board of Trustees. Its original principle was the true, philosophical Christian idea, that the first of all social duties is to prevent crime—and that the young have the first claim upon the care of those who would improve society. It is well to punish, but it is a thousand times better to reform; it is well to reform, but it is a thousand times better yet to turn into the right path at the very beginning.

This society has greatly expanded its operations since its first start, but has held closely to its primary idea. This is alike manifested in its system of Western emigration, its Home Missions, its Newsboys' Lodging-house, and its Girls' Lodging-house. Every step forward has found encouragement in good realized far beyond expectation. No less than seven thousand outcast children have been provided with new homes, where they receive correct mental and moral training; while through the various industrial schools tens of thousands, yet remaining in their old homes, have been saved from a life of vice and crime. The success of these schools has, indeed, been very remarkable. The report before us says: "Of the thousands of little girls who have been brought under their influence—so many of whom were children of intemperate parents, or whose sisters were women of bad lives, or who had themselves been thieves or beggars—not half a dozen could be found who are leading idle and criminal lives, and but one or two who are intemperate." These few lines speak volumes for the power of the sort of moral training which is received in these schools—and the more remarkable from the fact that most of the teachers are entirely unpaid. Perhaps, however, the influence of the teachers was all the more impressive and abiding because it was a pure labor of love. Undoubtedly the Society has found a great advantage in avoiding all expensive machinery. Its entire outlays for the ten years have amounted to less than $140,000. The seven thousand children sent to Western and other homes have involved an expense averaging only $11 40 to each child. No other system of reaching and saving the neglected children of our great Metropolis can be compared for a moment with this, in either cheapness or efficiency. We rejoice that through all vicissitudes in our civil and business life, it is year after year steadily gaining in prosperity and usefulness. There is a vast field to work upon, but a grand beginning has been made. The practical demonstration of the true method, after so many wrong theories and plans, is itself a great gain, not only for New-York, but for every Eastern city.

We are among those who believe that one of the effects of this war will be to make the public mind more thoughtful of the moral influences which bear upon the original elements of society, and less engrossed in mere political developments. The work of reform will be applied more to the roots of evil, and less to the ever-multiplying, rank and poisonous branches. Even in the midst of the conflict, there are abundant indications that this duty is becoming better appreciated; and that this war will not only save the Republic but make it better worth the saving.

The Military Preparations of Canada.

Considerably more than a year has passed since the arrival, in the neighboring Provinces, of several regiments of British Regulars, including a crack brigade of Guardsmen and several companies of artillery. The arrival altogether was auspicious, regarded from a colonial point of view. The Province, to begin with, had been literally stripped of red coats. A few companies of Rifles in dusky green, were about all that remained to garrison the great forts of Quebec, Montreal and Kingston, and to attest before strangers the fact of British supremacy in the northern portion of the Continent.

Add to this, that the Colonial mind had been exercised deeply on the seizure of the rebel emissaries; that at the season referred to the St. Lawrence ports were closed to navigation by the ice; that the problem of a Winter overland route for so large a body of troops as was looked for, was hard of solution; and that, to crown all, the appearance of eight or ten thousand regular troops, with the usual contingent of British bullion, promised much for the shopkeeping interest, and for those generally disposed to turn an honest penny. The Colonial mind was exercised. And no one can reasonably wonder that it was stirred even beyond the depth of its trading sympathies. In the exuberance of spirit which the military immigration aroused, the Provincialist bethought him of his duty as a citizen. He remembered that he was part of a great commonwealth. He reflected on the proximity in which he stood to a belligerent neighbor, and he determined to arm himself for all contingencies.

Our readers will hardly care to know the details of the patriotic enterprise thus and then inspired. They will be satisfied to learn the actual results. The official report of the Militia Department of the Province of Canada for the past year is before us; and we confess, after all we had heard of the sanguinary loyalty of the Colonists; of the eager enrolment of the people of all races and both creeds; of the time, labor and hard cash expended in military training, we looked into the record with a certain curiosity.

The sum of that record we shall state in few words. We find that the entire population of the United Canadian Province, by the late census, is 2,506,752. In the early part of last year—that is, shortly after the Trent difficulty occurred—the whole number of organized volunteers was 13,390; but as a portion of these were irregularly mustered, the so-called efficient force was something under twelve thousand. Turning, then, from this to the latest returns of the Department, it appears that the total force now organized, numbers 25,010. In other words, under the fervid influence of the war fever growing out of the Trent, and in the exuberance of loyalty which the arrival of the Royal Rifles and Fusileer Guards inspired, the Province has added, within a period of sixteen months, precisely 13,070 volunteers to the local military force. So that thus, after a sanguinary blustering and bellowing which was as contemptible as it proves to have been empty—after the most extravagant exertions on a small but pompous scale—the Province of United Canada, with a population more than double that of Massachusetts, could only get into military clothes about one-fifth the number of men which Massachusetts quietly and voluntarily raised and has sent into the field to fight the rebels.

One other point in the return before us claims a moment's notice. The proportion of actual volunteers to the whole population of the province is, as nearly as possible, 10 volunteers for each one thousand inhabitants. But when we look to the distribution of the volunteer organizations over the different sections, we find in the rural parts of Lower Canada, composed five-sixths of Gallic habitans, that only five in every thousand of the population have volunteered for active service. The cities, with a population of a little over a quarter of a million, supply more than one-third, or about 9,000 of the whole volunteer force—another significant fact, illustrating either that the general population of Canada is of an extremely unmilitary character, or that, notwithstanding the insolent braggadocio that has been current, the hearts and sympathies of the people were never enlisted in favor of the war for which their leaders and their mother country appeared to be so eager.

Arrival of the Prize Steamer Nicolai I.

The prize steamer Nicolai I., Executive Officer ALFRED EVERSON, commanding, captured on the 21st inst. by the United States gunboat Victoria, Capt. EDWARD HOOKER, off Little River, N. C., arrived at this port yesterday. The Captain states that he made three attempts to enter Charleston, and came near running down one of the vessels stationed there. The night being dark, he escaped being fired into. When captured, he was feeling the strength of Admiral LEE's squadron. The day being hazy, she unwittingly ran into the embraces of the Victoria, which was fully prepared to receive her. Discovering his danger, the Captain immediately turned to the southward, when a few rifle shell were fired at him, and he surrendered. On boarding her, the officers and crew were found to be in a state of intoxication, having imbibed too much of the "London Dock," which which they were abundantly supplied.

The Nicolai I. was built in London, sold to the Russians, and captured by the English during the Crimean war. Her average speed is twelve knots. The machinery is heavy enough for two modern built engines. The hull is built of British oak, and is very substantial. Her cargo consists of powder, fixed ammunition, small arms of every description, dry-goods, cutlery and tin-ware.

Annexed is a list of the prize-officers: Master, ALFRED EVERSON, Commanding; Executive Officer, Wm. H. Mayer; Chief Engineer, T. D. Webster; Assistant Engineer, G. A. Tyler; Second Assistant Engineer, Thomas Garnon; Boatswain, Charles Freeman; Signal Quartermaster, J. G. Maatz. Prize-crew of twenty-two men.

RAILROADS IN THE SOUTH.

Their Advantages to the Rebels—The Probable Effect of Cutting the Main Lines—The Roads Fast Wearing Out—The Impossibility of Repairing Them.

Correspondence of the New-York Times.

WASHINGTON, Thursday, March 26, 1863.

The net-work of Railroads with which the South had been checkered prior to the commencement of the rebellion was as essential to the prolongation of the contest as the great accumulation of arms and munitions of war which the traitors in BUCHANAN'S Cabinet had provided at the expense of the Government. Without these railroads, which sweep across the disaffected region in all directions, the leaders of the rebellion would find it utterly impossible to mass large armies together, for the simple reason that it would be impossible to feed them. If the rebellion had occurred ten years sooner, it could not have held out against the power of the Government six months—had any such power been called out as we now have in the field and on the wave. For ten years ago, if the North was not so well provided as it is at the present day with the facilities of transportation, it nevertheless had every needful resource in this respect; it had then the great rivers, the ocean, and every essential railroad line which it now possesses. While these facilities of concentrating armies and munitions of war upon the Southern borders, and even in the heart of the Southern country, upon the banks of the Mississippi would then have been nearly or quite equal to what they now are, the absence of Southern railroads would have presented no greater obstacle to an advance than the rebels at this day everywhere throw in our way, by destroying their roads whenever they are compelled to retreat.

Railroads are of incalculable value to a people for defensive purposes, but they afford no facilities to the invader. It is, therefore, must lucky for the rebels—if it can be considered lucky to prolong a hopeless contest in such a cause as that in which they are engaged—that they postponed their diabolical enterprise until their great lines of railroad, which traverse the South from Memphis to Charleston, and from Northeastern Virginia, by several routes, to New-Orleans, were completed. Especially important to them has been the road connecting Richmond with the Southwest, through Knoxville, in Tennessee. Without this spinal artery, which has kept up the circulation between the extremities and supplied the sinews of war at every moment of pressing need, the back-bone of the rebellion might have been broken in a single campaign. The devoted Unionists of East Tennessee could have been relieved, and armed for defence, and the traitor-conspiracy would have been paralyzed at a single blow.

But these facts of the past are irreversible; and that which remains to us is to profit by the lesson they teach. We cannot turn back the wheels of time so as to precipitate the contest before the system of Southern railroads was completed. Nor can we prevent them from using the railroads which are in their possession; but we at least have the advantage of knowing the secret of their strength, and we can assail them in their most vulnerable points. What the veins and arteries are to the animal frame, railroads are to the rebellious States. In the one case, if the jugular or the aorta be cut, the animal dies immediately. In the other, if the main lines connecting Virginia with the Southwest through East Tennessee, and with the South through Weldon, be broken up, the Confederacy will perish from instant paralysis. But of these great lines of communication, by far the most essential to the rebels is that which passes through East Tennessee. That region of country is known to be filled with men loyal to the Union, who have suffered such horrors for their devotion to country as the Hollanders of the age of PHILLIP II. knew, or the Poles of our day.

In this connection it is gratifying to note the fact that these Southern railroads, all-important as they are to the rebels, are rapidly giving way under the wear and tear of the military management to which they are subjected, and in the absence of materials of repair in consequence of the blockade. The Richmond Examiner, of the 18th inst., devotes one of its most lugubrious articles to this topic. It declares that:

> "It is a fact, as well known to the enemy as to ourselves, that all the country in the vicinity of our armies has long been stripped of its provisions and forage, and that these armies depend for their existence and maintenance of their present positions upon the railroads. The railroads of this State are on the point of wearing out. They have decreased their speed to ten miles an hour as a maximum rate, and are carrying twenty five to fifty per cent. less tonnage than formerly. * * The wood-work of the roads has rotted, and the machinery has worn out. * * We are not informed of the actual condition of the railroads in the more Southern States, but conceive they are little better off than our own, except in the matter of negro labor. * * Railroads are a part, and an indispensable part, of our military system; and if they are allowed to fall through from any cause, Government and people may prepare for the retreat of our armies, and the surrender of much of the valuable country now in our possession."

This breaking down of the Southern railroad system is one of the most cheering facts of the day. The Examiner affects to blame its rebel Government for neglecting to keep up the railroads, and to attribute their dilapidation to "the stringent enforcement of the Conscription law as to railroad employes;" and to the scarcity of labor as it regards Virginia, in consequence of the facilities the slaves enjoy of "escaping to the enemy." It hopes things are better, in this last respect, in the Southwest. But the truth is, the railroads are too obviously essential to the rebel military operations to have been overlooked or neglected. No doubt everything has been done that could be done under the circumstances to keep them in repair. But being excluded from trade with the North, and with Europe, by the blockade, they have been unable to procure railroad iron, cars, engines, and a thousand things essential to a railroad, the number and variety of which cannot be imagined except by a people cut off from communications with countries where manufacturing is carried on.

The rebels may keep up a supply of arms by clandestine importations and by domestic manufacture, but it will be impossible for them to import railroad iron, engines, and cars, to supply the wear of two years of war. From this cause alone, the rebellion must break down, if the Government fails to precipitate its downfall by vigorous assaults.

In densely populated countries, great armies have been maintained without railroads, and long before railroads were thought of; but in a sparsely peopled and exhausted country, such as the South now is, the thing is impossible—especially in competition with a powerful commercial and manufacturing nation which, with its iron-clad gunboats, can penetrate the Southern harbors and rivers, and use them to better advantage than the South itself.

The Government has the additional advantage over the rebels, that it can, as its armies advance, repair the Southern railroads, and use them to keep up communication with the loyal States. In this way, their great resource for defence may be turned against them. It may be hoped that the admission made by the rebel paper as to the vital importance of their railroads, will reawaken our military authorities to the same fact, and that every energy will be directed to an assault upon the main line, which passes through Knoxville, Tenn.

THE GUERRILLAS IN MISSOURI.

THE CAPTURE OF THE STEAMER SAM. GATY.

Nine Negroes and Two Soldiers Killed.

KANSAS CITY, Sunday, March 29.

Further particulars with regard to the capture of the steamer Sam. Gaty yesterday by guerrillas, state that nine negroes and two soldiers were killed, and a third was wounded, who escaped to Independence. All the public and private property was rifled. Three hundred sacks of flour, forty-eight wagon beds, belonging to the Government, and considerable private property were thrown overboard. The amount of money taken was $2,200, of which $600 belonged to the boat. The guerrillas had intended to destroy the boat, but they finally allowed her to proceed on her voyage. They had followed her thirty miles.

The Case of Surgeon Thomas.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

One of your correspondents, writing from Falmouth, reported the action of a General Court-Martial held Jan. 12, 1863, upon the case of Surgeon LUTHER THOMAS, of the Twenty-sixth New-Jersey Volunteers, stating that he was convicted and sentenced to be cashiered—the charges being that he was "drunk on duty, and guilty of conduct to the prejudice of good order and military discipline."

A friend of the accused has just returned from investigating the case at Washington. Perhaps your correspondent did not know the sequel. That appears indorsed on the record in the following words:

HEADQUARTERS ARMY OF THE POTOMAC, Feb. 13, 1863.

The proceedings in the case of Surgeon LUTHER G. THOMAS, Twenty-sixth New-Jersey Volunteers, are disapproved. It is not thought that the evidence before the Court-Martial justified the finding. Under the 89th Article of War, the proceedings are respectfully forwarded for the action of the President, with a recommendation that the sentence be remitted.

AN ARMLESS PATRIOT.—A soldier is now stopping at the New-England Rooms—Sergeant THOMAS PLUNKETT, late color-bearer, who lost both arms at the battle of Fredericksburgh. His regiment was charging on the rebel works, when another Sergeant, who was bearing the colors, was killed. Sergeant PLUNKETT seized them and rushed to the front with them, when he was struck by a shell, which tore off both arms. The gallant soldier has no relations, and a subscription list has been opened for him at the New-England Rooms.

THE CONDITION OF THE STREETS.—The miserable condition of the Brooklyn streets is attracting more attention now, since the breaking up of Winter, than ever before. In some localities the filth has accumulated for about six months, and complaints are general in consequence. There is not a Ward or a section of the city which is kept in even a passable condition, and in many places it is so bad as to make it difficult to cross any portion of a street, except at the crosswalks, without sinking ankle-deep in mud. The police report the condition of the streets every month, and for the 1st of April the record is anything but creditable to the authorities having charge of the matter.

A NEW SHIPYARD.—Capt. WM. PERINE, formerly of the firm of PERINE, PATTERSON & STACK, shipbuilders at Williamsburgh, L. I., having been awarded a contract for building one of the recently ordered iron batteries of light draft for river service, has leased a water front north of SECOR & Co.'s yard in Jersey City. A building is now in course of construction, 190 feet in length by 30 feet wide, for the machinery. The battery will have one turret for two guns, and will be furnished with water-tanks on the sides, by the emptying of which the vessel will be so lightened as to be enabled to navigate in six feet of water.

Certificate of Dr. James R. Chilton.

I have analyzed the "IODINE WATER," prepared by Dr. Anders, and find it to be a solution of pure Iodine in water. It has long been a desideratum to prepare Iodine so that it can be administered in its uncombined state. This preparation, by Dr. Anders, enables us to effect that object. Each fluid ounce of the Water contains about half a grain of Iodine. I consider it a valuable preparation, and one which will prove serviceable in all those cases where the use of Iodine is indicated.

JAMES R. CHILTON, M. D., Chemist.

Certificate from Prof. James C. Booth, United States Mint, Philadelphia.

DR. HENRY ANDERS: The sample of Iodine Water, tested by me, I find to be Iodine dissolved in pure water.

Respectfully yours,
JAMES C. BOOTH.

To these may be added the remarks of the American Medical Monthly, edited by EDWARD H. PARKER, A. M., M. D.:

IODINE WATER.—Samples of a preparation with this name have been sent to us by Dr. Anders, of this City, by whom it is prepared. Chemists generally state that Iodine can be dissolved in water, but that the solution is a very weak one, containing, in fact, only 1.7000 part of Iodine by weight. Dr. Anders states that this is only a simple solution in Croton water, and may be made as strong as ¾ of a grain to the ounce. The preparation is a decidedly brown fluid, with a strong smell and taste of Iodine. When allowed to stand in an open vessel the color and taste both disappear, the remainder being simply limpid water. We have seen a copy of a report of an analysis made by Dr. Chilton, in which he states that he finds it "to be a solution of pure Iodine in water." It is a question of interest, by no means unworthy of investigation, what may be the therapeutical value of this preparation. If we can in this way introduce pure Iodine into the system, without combination with any other substance, important results may follow. Practitioners should remember this solution when prescribing Iodine.

Premium on Gold.—The Subscriber, who cannot change his prices with the fluctuations of gold without incurring enormous expense in advertising the changes, is compelled to sell his Pens at old prices. Thinking his customers entitled to the benefit of the premium on gold, rather than the Wall-street debasers of the best currency this country ever had, he now offers to all remitting the amount of their orders in gold, the full premium in this City on the day when received. In this way he hopes to do the country and his customers some good without injuring himself, for the MORTON PEN cannot be made without gold. Chloasma, or Moth Patches.
Blemishes on the face, called Moth, are very annoying, particularly to ladies of light complexion, as the discolored spots on the skin show more strongly on blondes than on brunettes, but they contribute greatly in marring the beauty on either, and anything that will remove moth patches without injuring the skin in texture or color, would no doubt be considered a great achievement in medical science. Dr. B. C. PERRY, No. 49 Bond-st., having devoted his whole time and attention to Diseases of the Skin, will guarantee to remove Moth Patches, Freckles and other discolorations from the face without injury to either texture or color of the skin. His success in this, as in other branches of his specialty—Diseases of the Scalp and Loss of Hair—will warrant him in guaranteeing a Cure in every case. Dr. B. C. PERRY,

DEAFNESS
NOISES IN THE HEAD,
Diseases of the Eye, Ear & Throat,
CATARRH CURED
BY
DR. VON EISENBERG.

From the Journal of Commerce.

EXCITING NEWS FOR THE DEAF.—An instrument called Dr. Von Eisenberg's Air Passage Expander and Regulator, a gigantic machine, weighing nearly five hundred pounds, about five feet in height, a most wonderful apparatus for restoring sight and hearing, has just arrived for Dr. Von Eisenberg, the celebrated Oculist and Aurist, and will be on exhibition at the Doctor's office, No. 816 Broadway, for a few days previous to its use. The instrument is constructed decidedly on the most scientific principles. To give a detailed description would require a greater space than we can now spare. Our Oculist and Aurist seems to do everything in the line of his profession on a gigantic scale. The new instrument for restoring hearing to the deaf and sight to the blind is so constructed that it cannot fail to open the most obstructed air passages. His new consulting rooms, No. 816 Broadway, are correspondingly magnificent, and his practice as Aurist and Oculist large and eminently successful.

From the New-York Evening Express, Feb. 14, 1863.

SENSATION AMONG THE DEAF.—The unrivaled skill of Dr. Von Eisenberg, the far-famed Oculist and Aurist, of No. 816 Broadway, has made quite a sensation among the Deaf and Blind by his wonderful cures, which attract the Deaf, Blind and those suffering from Chronic Catarrh, from all parts of the Union to his office. The number of his certificates of really wonderful cures swells daily. For the benefit of sufferers, we submit the following, which requires no comment:

NEW-YORK, Feb. 9, 1863.

I have been completely deaf in one ear, and partially so in the other, for above seventeen years, with a disagreeable discharge from both ears, combined with continual rumbling noise in the head, for which I have been treated by a most eminent practitioner in the City without the slightest relief.

I consulted Dr. Von Eisenberg, but I must candidly say that I had no faith in his success when I did so. It is, therefore, due to Dr. Von Eisenberg to acknowledge that I am entirely cured; also, that he displayed that skill and knowledge which have procured for him such an unrivaled reputation. As I have had an opportunity of comparing his mode of treatment with that of others, I can truly state that it is not only superior, but the principles which direct his mode of restoring the hearing are, in my opinion, certain. JOHN TAYLOR,
No. 13 Livingston-st., Brooklyn.

NEW-YORK, July 19, 1862.

This certifies that my mother has been for some time afflicted with partial deafness, suffering from pain, and rumbling noises in the head, together with other indications of a total loss of hearing. Dr. Von Eisenberg removed from her ears a great quantity of matter, together with coagulated blood, relieving her instantaneously, and all without pain. It is with grateful thanks that I give this testimony to his skill.

CARROLL J. POST, No. 28 South-st.

No. 188 MERCER-ST., NEW-YORK.

J. E. VON EISENBERG, M. D.—Dear Doctor: I have been afflicted with total deafness, and was induced to pay you a visit. No one can imagine my delight when, after one operation, my hearing was suddenly, and without pain, restored to me, for which I feel very grateful. After being totally deaf—almost shut out from the pleasure of using so necessary a sense—to have it returned, and to hear so distinctly, reflects great credit on you for the immense amount of skill you possess. I beg to thank you for what I can so truly appreciate. I am, Sir, your obedient servant,

EDWARD TEMPLE HARRISON.

NEW-YORK, Nov. 6, 1862.

DR. VON EISENBERG—Dear Sir: Before taking leave of you, after your most successful operation on my ear, allow me to express my sincere thanks that, by your scientific surgical performance, I am enabled to hear distinctly, and enjoy a pleasure of which I have long been deprived—over a year. May you be rewarded by being enabled to perform many similar, to benefit other sufferers, and to your own emolument.

Allow me to present my kindest regards, and assure you of my grateful remembrance. Respectfully,

A. McDONALD REYNOLDS,
Captain Marines, United States.

CHRONIC CATARRH CURED.
READ!

NEW-YORK, March 28, 1863.

"This is to certify, that I have suffered from very severe CHRONIC CATARRH, with a dull heaviness in the head. I felt my nose completely stopped up accompanied by continual soreness of the throat, the chills stealing over me with occasional hot flushes, a great tightness of the chest and pain, so much so, that every one thought it was consumption. Having heard of the great cures performed by Dr. Von Eisenberg, I consulted him with but little hope of a cure. I am now happy to be enabled to add my testimonial to the great number already in the Doctor's possession, as to his scientific and successful mode of treatment, as he has shown in my case that skill and knowledge which have procured for him so great a reputation. I am so entirely restored to perfect health that I do most sincerely recommend all sufferers from CHRONIC CATARRH and SORE THROAT to apply at once to Dr. Von Eisenberg with a certainty of being cured."

Publish This Day:
MADGE;
OR,
NIGHT AND MORNING.
By
H. B. G.
1 vol., 12mo, Cloth, 407 pages; $1 25.
From the Congregationalist.
It contains the story of a young girl "bound out," as the custom is in the New-England villages; her Northern mistress was a harsh, selfish, and unfeeling woman, and the "bound girl's" character is pleasantly and interestingly portrayed, as it becomes molded and hewn out by the hard circumstances of her lot, till she becomes "purified by suffering," a perfect woman.
From the Watchman and Reflector.
Its purity of sentiment, its moral tone, its quiet, religious under-current, its pleasant pictures of home life, its truthful delineations of woman's heart, please the reader, while they also instruct. The story is excellently written, and the reader's interest retained unabated until well the dénouement, which is unexpected but satisfactory.

No. 93 Fulton-st. Orders respectfully solicited.

TO ARMY AND NAVY OFFICERS.

From the Express.

Mr. M. S. FRIEND has matured a system of business that will meet the approbation of parties desiring to purchase stores, wines, teas, cigars, or, in fact, anything necessary for family purposes. Army and navy messes are supplied, shops and steamers furnished, and country merchants' orders filled with every article that may be desired, with promptness and fidelity. In his establishment, at No. 4 Dey-st., is a reading-room with writing conveniences, and a journal, where will be found the names, residences and destination of naval and military gentlemen registered. Here a steward may leave his order in the morning, and on going aboard at night will find the articles he desires, in better quality and with more punctuality than it would have been possible for him to have purchased himself. Mr. E. C. GENET, a gentleman long connected with the navy, will take supervision of the selecting and packing such goods as parties may order. We commend the attention of our readers to this new and novel enterprise.

WATER-PROOF
VIENNA AND STRELLA MATCHES.

These matches are made without sulphur, and being free from disagreeable odor, are not only very desirable but almost indispensable for use in the parlor and sleeping chamber. They are put up in fancy colored boxes and small packages for family use, and are also carefully packed in cases for transportation. For sale wholesale and retail by JAMES [illegible] DEY.

CAUTION TO LADIES.

Madame RESTELL, Female Physician, No. 162 Chambers-street, deems it her duty to caution ladies against impostors, who appropriate her advertisements, word for word, merely substituting some ignorant and wholly irresponsible person as "Madame."

These persons have spurious "Female Monthly Pills" and other poisonous compounds to deprive the unwary or the easily duped, as well of their means as of their health.

That ladies may avoid these impositions, Madame Restell feels called upon to give this caution.

MRS. MAXWELL, M. D.,

No. 6 Greene-st., New-York, takes pleasure in offering her services to the ladies who are suffering from irregularities, suppression, &c., (from whatever cause produced.) In order to extend her sphere of usefulness, she has taken a large house, regardless of expense, and fitted it up as a lying-in hospital, where the most perfect confidence is observed, and all the comforts of a sick room are received. Also, Female Monthly Pills, price $1. And where the children can always be adopted.

SURE CURE—BY DR. POWERS, SUCCESSfully consulted with Dr. WARD, No. 12 Laight-st. Conducted on the plan of the Hospital des Veneriens, Paris, where those afflicted with any form of private disease can receive prompt treatment, without risk or exposure, viz.: Syphilis, gonorrhœa, gleet, strictures, ulcers, tumors, cancers, secondary and constitutional syphilis, diseases of the kidneys, &c., &c. Thirty years of extensive practice, exclusively devoted to the treatment of those complaints enable us to effect cures in cases where others of less experience have failed. Dr. Powers' Essence of Life restores the vigor of youth in four weeks. This marvelous agent restores manhood to the most shattered constitutions—physical disqualifications, impediments to marriage, thereby speedily cured. The men to consult, Drs. Ward and Powers, the champions and kings of venereal diseases, possessing the most certain, speedy and only effectual remedies in the world, guarantee a perfect cure, or no charge, in from one to three days. Established in 1840. N. B.—Those who have used their preventives are never without. Send for a circular. To Ladies.—Dr. Powers' Periodical Drops are a safe and certain remedy for monthly irregularities. The above remedies sent by mail. The afflicted should read their circular. Postage free, on receipt of a stamp. Cures warranted.

PRIVATE DISEASES CURED IN THE shortest possible time, by DR. WARD & CO., No. 12 Laight-st., near Canal, without the use of Mercury, loss of time or change of diet. Dr. WARD, from the hospitals of London, Paris and Edinburgh, is the discoverer of the only certain and reliable remedies for diseases of a private character. In 28 years' practice he has cured more cases of Secret Diseases and Wrong Treatment than all others combined. I can and will cure you in less time and expense than any one can or will, and those who have been robbed of their money and health, call; it will take but little money and time to restore you. If you have been unfortunate, call at once. By his special experience in this much-neglected branch of medical science, he is enabled to guarantee a cure in the most complicated cases. Recent cases of Gonorrhœa or Syphilis cured in a few days, without change of diet or hindrance from business. Secondary Syphilis—the last vestige eradicated without the use of Mercury. Involuntary emissions stopped in a short time. Sufferers from Impotency, or loss of sexual power, restored to full vigor in a few weeks. Permanently and speedily cured by a new treatment. Persons at a distance, failing to receive prompt treatment elsewhere, may get a permanent cure effected by writing a full diagnosis of their case, addressed to DR. WARD, No. 12 Laight-st., the only place. Call, send or write.

Strictures of the urethra and seminal weakness, brought on by a secret habit, effectually cured. The victims of misplaced confidence, who have been misled by quack advertisements, can call on Dr. C. with the certainty of being radically cured. N. B.—Dr. C. is a qualified physician and surgeon, and a member of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of New-York. Office hours from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.

DR. HUNTER'S RED DROP RESTORES the vigor of youth in four days. Restores manhood to the most shattered system. No. 3 Division-st., New-York, the only place. Beware of bogus Dr. Hunters. The City is full of knaves, up to every trick to rob Dr. HUNTER of his great reputation as a skillful and reliable physician. He has no other office but No. 3 Division-st. Established in 1834.

SOMETHING FOR EVERY LADY.—DR. WARD'S Great Female Benefactor or Golden Regulating Pills. Infallible in correcting, regulating and removing all obstructions, from whatever cause, designed for purely legitimate purposes—to restore the menstrual fluid—and they will never disappoint the anxious patient. Office, No. 12 Laight-st., where Dr. WARD can be consulted, confidentially, day and evening.

PILES, PILES.—EXTERNAL OR INTERNAL, blind or itching, and the worst cases can at once be relieved and entirely cured by a new invention that holds them up, and, by its use, produces their absorption and completely removes them, or money refunded. Sent free by mail on receipt of $1. Sold by all druggists. Address Dr. W. H. HALL, No. 696 Broadway, New-York.

SULPHUR AND VAPOR BATHS—ESTABlished in 1820.—The only genuine baths in the United States, at No 1 Carroll-place, Bleecker-st., corner of Laurens, for cure of rheumatism, mercurial affections, &c. Given daily by Dr. A. L. TIMOLAT & CO.

PRIVATE CONSULTATION.—DR. HUNTER has, for thirty years, confined his attention to diseases of a certain class, in which he has treated no less than fifty thousand cases, without an instance of failure. His great remedy, HUNTER'S RED DROP, cures certain diseases, when regular treatment and all other remedies fail; cures without dieting or restriction in the habits of the patient; cures without the disgusting and sickening effects of all other remedies; cures in new cases in less than six hours; cures without the dreadful consequent effects of mercury, but possesses the peculiarly valuable property of annihilating the rank and poisonous taint that the blood is sure to absorb, unless his remedy is used. That is what he claims for it, and what no other will accomplish. Its value in this respect has become so well known, that scientific men in every department of medical knowledge begin to appreciate it, for hardly a week passes that he is not consulted by druggists, chemists and physicians, in regard to some pitiful patient who has exhausted the whole field of the faculty, and still the disease will appear. Its popularity is so great, that there is not a quack doctor in the City that has not attacked it; and when they find their lies are not so easily swallowed, they then pretend that they can make it. It is $1 a vial, and cannot be obtained genuine anywhere but at the old office, No. 3 Division-st. Book for 15 three-cent stamps, 300 pages, 100 colored illustrations. The best work out.

FROM VENEZUELA.

Visit of Gen. Paez to the Eastern Provinces of Venezuela—His Enthusiastic Reception and Return—Escape of Political Prisoners—Two of them Shot—A Military Execution and Reprieve—The Cotton Culture—American Enterprise—The Gas Monopoly—The Gold Mines—Emigration, &c., &c.

Correspondence of the New-York Times.

CARACAS, Wednesday, Feb. 25, 1863.

In my last I advised you of the sudden departure of Gen. PAEZ from this Capital for the Provinces of the East. He met everywhere with enthusiastic receptions, and on his return here was welcomed with demonstrations of joy. The venerable patriot seems to have been quite rejuvenated by the trip. On the evening of the 5th we left the port of La Guarra, and on the morning of the 6th found ourselves in front of Cape Cadeva, where H. E. paused to give some orders and to distribute medals to the crew of the light-ship. On the morning of the 8th we anchored at Pintu, where we were visited by the authorities of the place, and where H. E. left some further orders, after which the steamer continued its course to Barcelona. At 3 in the afternoon, we came to anchor in that port, and as soon as it was understood H. E. was on board, the entire populace—men, women and children—seemed to turn out, and came crowding to the wharf. Hundreds of ladies and gentlemen thronged into small boats, and accompanied the officials whose duty it was to visit the ship. It was impossible for H. E. to yield to their solicitations to disembark, but after leaving a few orders with the Governor, he sent an Aid-de-Camp ashore to express his gratitude for such demonstrations, and to promise the citizens a visit on his return. At 9½ in the evening we resumed our way to Pampatar, and in the afternoon of the 8th anchored in that port. The sight of a war steamer in those waters was a novelty in itself, but when it was understood that H. E. was on board, the entire population seemed electrified with the news. The wharves and the castle were soon black with people, cheering and shouting at the top of their voices, and giving vent to their enthusiasm by firing rockets and "big guns," and displaying flags in every direction. Here H. E. yielded to solicitations to disembark, and promised to detain the vessel until the next day. We passed the night on board, and at 9 o'clock the next morning, the gun of the Castle of St. Carlos announced that H. E. was on shore. I find my notes of this interesting trip altogether too voluminous, and must curtail them. The Castle of St. Carlos, for instance, is a most interesting pile, and I spent all the time I could in traversing its ancient arches. Constructed in 1666, it has withstood the tooth of Time and the ravages of war for nearly two centuries, and, although it evidently needs some repairs, is capable still of doing the State some service. The reception of Gen. PAEZ here was a perfect ovation—the authorities and the people vieing with each other in their demonstrations, and feast after feast was offered and reluctantly refused. The General visited the temple and the primary schools, and in the evening retired to the house of Sir MANUEL VINCENTE MANEIRO, where we were most sumptuously entertained.

At ten the following morning we took mules and horses and started for Asuncion, the capital of the Province of Margarita, accompanied by an immense concourse of people. The road is only practicable for mules and pack horses, but might with little pains be made available for vehicles. It runs through a very picturesque and beautiful country, abounding in agricultural wealth and natural advantages of every kind, winding for the most part through a wide valley covered with verdure and traversed by a lovely river, whose banks are everywhere lined with cocoa trees and palms. Even the little hills that diversity the picture are bountifully irrigated, and covered with a luxurious vegetation. Margarita is an island at some distance from the coast, and from its isolated position, being exempt from the revolutionary turmoils of its sister provinces, basks not only in the smiles of the perpetual Summer of these regions, but enjoys also the blessings of uninterrupted peace.

The discharge of cannon from the castle which commands the City of Asuncion, and the cheers of a vast crowd of well dressed and happy people, who had come out to meet us at a little outpost village, announced our approach to the Capital. The way was actually blocked up with the masses, and H. E. was compelled to alight to receive the congratulations of the people, and make his way among them on foot. But we were soon in our saddles again, and in the midst of the city. Compact masses of people lined the streets, and our way was slowly made through waving handkerchiefs, and flowers, and palms, while the flags of every nation were waving above us, and interspersing with their gay colors the green triumphal arches constructed at the crossings; the chiming of bells and the firing of rockets and squibs, mingled with the cheers which greeted H. E. at every step; and, indeed, nothing was omitted by which the people could give expression to the exuberance of their joy. An armed force of two or three thousand men met him, offering their services. A Te Deum was solemnized in the Temple—a splendid banquet was spread in the mansion of the Governor—a ball took place in the evening, &c., &c. At 11 o'clock at night, the old Chief, who prides himself in tiring out his staff officers and attendants, summoned us all to resume the trip; and in a few minutes we were on our way to Juan Griego, the most advanced post on the island, where we passed the night, and returned by noon the next day to Pampatar. Here we embarked at 9 o'clock in the evening, and started immediately for Cumana, arriving there at 3 in the afternoon of the 13th. We had scarcely dropped anchor when a formal invitation was sent out from the authorities, and formally accepted. But the enthusiasm of the people swept over all the barriers of conventionalism and etiquette, and vociferously recognizing the old Chief as the father of his country, gave vent to itself in every kind of noisy demonstration.

We landed at 5 o'clock, and the entire population seemed to be in the street. Salutes of artillery, banquets, balls, banners and bell-ringing, kept up their noisy demonstrations until midnight, when H. E. left the splendid company and entertainment prepared for him at the house of Señor E. MORAN, and immediately embarked for Piritu. At this place H. E. merely received the congratulations of the authorities and such of the citizens as came on board, and after leaving his orders with the Governor, pursued his voyage.

On the 17th, the steamer Venezuela anchored in the harbor of La Guayra, and here, as everywhere else, the people awarded the chief unbounded welcomings. The next day he pursued his way to this Capital, the telegraph in the meantime having given notice of his approach. At an early hour in the morning horsemen began to throng the road to La Guayra, and before noon the entire way was lined with them. At Mount Calvary, Gen. HAGADORN had sent forward a battery of light artillery, reserving a park of heavy guns at San Pablo, at both of which places he had ordered the national salute. All the adjacent hills were crowded with people, and the tower of the Cathedral and of all the churches from which the La Guayra road could be seen, had their appropriate groups. It was not until about 4 o'clock, however, before the cavalcade accompanying H. E. made its appearance, when the salvos of artillery rang out their sonorous announcement, and the ringing of bells and the firing of innumerable rockets and squibs gave note that the pater patriæ was again at the threshhold of Caracas. From the outskirts of the city to his beautiful home, La Viñeta, every thoroughfare was densely packed with people, and the usual "reception" on the following evening was literally a throng of wealth, fashion, gaiety and beauty. Well may the old chief be satisfied with the results of his visit and the demonstrations which have met him everywhere.

A few days before his return, the capital was disturbed by a most unhappy incident. Four political prisoners—two of them hired assassins—had bribed the sentinels placed over them, and stupefied the guards with narcotics in order to effect their escape. Two of them, however, were shot by the patrols, one dying instantly, and the other within a few hours. Two of the bribed sentinels were overtaken, and were condemned to be shot. Every arrangement for their execution had been made in the market-place, and throngs of spectators had assembled to witness the spectacle, when, at the intercession of the clergy and others, they were reprieved. The Secretary-General has added materially to his popularity and the just confidence and esteem in which he is held by the people of this capital, by this act of clemency. In the evening after "the pardon," he was cheered everywhere as he passed through the streets, and in the evening was serenaded and greeted by thousands of citizens, many of whom had never before been counted among his friends.

The cotton project, which I spoke of in my last, progresses finely. The indigenous cotton, which is raised here in some favored localities with little care or culture, is pronounced by good judges equal to our best uplands, and there is no doubt now that Venezeula contains within her borders a better region for the black seed cotton than even the famous Sea Islands themselves.

Americans continue to throng here from "the States." A Mr. CUMMINS has lately arrived with the latest machinery for making shoes, and will undoubtedly soon realize a fortune. The immigration question continues to agitate the public mind through the columns of the journals, and various projects are put forth. Gen. PAEZ, however, is understood to favor a plan to give away the public lands to actual settlers, and to admit the furniture, provisions, and implements of the immigrants duty free.

The great gas monopoly of Venezuela, embracing all the towns and cities of the Republic, is attracting considerable attention. Unlike most enterprises here, this gigantic scheme had its origin in the brain of one or two creole gentlemen, but they have disposed of their interest to others, and Señor DOMINGO RINS, of Cuba, is now the President of the Company, and Col. D. M. TALMAGE, of Brooklyn, N. Y., the Superintendent and contractor for the construction of the works. Both of these gentlemen arrived in this city a few weeks ago from New-York, bringing with them all the materials complete for the erection of gas works, including the street pipes and lamps, the lamps for the public squares and public edifices, as well as all the machinists and employes necessary to complete the enterprise in true American style. Unwonted energy is displaying itself in the vicinity of their works. Hundreds of men go to work every morning at the stroke of the clock, and are well and promptly paid off every Saturday night. Such as are not "on time" on Monday morning, find themselves discharged without ceremony, and others occupying their places. This is something entirely new here. In a few days we shall have three or four hundred of them ripping up the pavements. The excavation for the huge gasometer is already completed, and the retort and purifying house far advanced. It is quite amusing to read the tokens and expressions of wonder upon the countenances of the bystanders, who gather in groups around the works continually. Col. TALMAGE is evidently one of the "go-ahead" kind; his experience at home for the last four years has fitted him admirably for the prosecution of this work, and his cheerful countenance, energetic manner and quiet self-possession, inspire every one with confidence.

Yankee enterprise upon the Orinoco, and at the new gold mines, continue to produce their natural results, and will soon carry away and demolish the flood gates of monopoly, which have so long successfully repressed development in that direction. The account I sent you in my last letter is more than confirmed by subsequent testimony. EXCELSIOR.

FROM THE STATE CAPITAL.

The Broadway Railroad in the Senate—Slow Progress—Proceedings of the Callicot Committee—Pay of the New-York Common Council.

From Our Own Correspondent.

ALBANY, Saturday, March 28, 1863.

Broadway, in the Senate, gets on slowly, but, as its friends claim, surely. The amendment offered by Mr. MURPHY, confining the dividends to 10 per cent. per annum, besides 10 per cent. (not per annum) to be kept on hand for reëquipment, together with the amendment changing the grantees into corporators, would seem to change the character of the bill materially. But everybody knows how these things work, and there ought not to be too much confidence in the effect of the restrictive amendment. The amendment prohibiting the running of cars on Sunday is a more effective stab. Other amendments are reserved.

It is not too much to say that the effect of these amendments and the general aspect of the case have had the effect to depreciate the Broadway stock very considerably, and it has been remarked that there is a prospect that nothing but the shell, with the meat out, will be left to the corporators.

The Committee appointed by the Assembly to inquire into the charges preferred by Mr. T. C. FIELDS against Speaker CALLICOT, held a meeting yesterday afternoon. On the points put in by Mr. TREMAIN in behalf of the defendant, the Committee decided unanimously that the investigation would be confined to his official conduct as a member of the present House.

Under this ruling, but one charge, virtually, remains to be investigated. Mr. THOMAS HOPE, of Brooklyn, testified that as the agent of Mrs. MARY A. WOOD, of Brooklyn, he came to Albany on the 19th of January, for the purpose of obtaining the payment of a note given by CALLICOT for eight shares of Bank of America stock, borrowed in 1859; that CALLICOT was then running for the Speakership; that he offered to pay him $500, which offer was declined, and $1,200 imperatively demanded; that unless the money was forthcoming, the use of a certain document, which witness had in his possession, addressed to Mr. T. C. FIELDS, was threatened; that CALLICOT said he was unable to pay then, but would see if he could raise the money; that witness returned to New-York, but came to Albany a few days after on a telegram from CALLICOT; that when he arrived, he was greatly disappointed when CALLICOT told him he had not the money for him; that witness again threatened to make use of the document addressed to Mr. T. C. FIELDS, (the nature of which was not disclosed, any further than it was prepared by one Dr. TUCKER, in Brooklyn,) and CALLICOT expressed the hope that he would be able to raise the money; that the next day CALLICOT paid him $1,200, and the indebtedness was canceled; that about the time before the money was paid a gentlemen, whom the witness thought resembled HAMILTON HARRIS, of Albany, invited CALLICOT to his room, while witness was requested to withdraw; that the money was paid in bills on some Albany bank.

The bill to pay members of the New-York Common Council a salary of $2,500 in lieu of all other perquisites, and to continue the terms of office of the heads of Departments in that City, were passed in the House to-day. RODERICK.

Another Letter from Mr. Weed—Mr. Greeley's Present Position.

To the Editors of the Albany Evening Journal:

Though out of editorial harness, I yearn for communion with your readers. In the changed and brightening aspects of the country, allow me to address a brief communication to my old friends.

Two months ago, bold Secessionists on the one hand, and rampant Abolitionists on the other, were at work to accomplish a fatal division of sentiment among the Northern people. The very atmosphere, for a season, was infected and contagious. The recklessness of Abolitionists in Congress, in the Press, and in lecture rooms, encouraged corresponding audacity in disloyal journals and Representatives. The virulence of each has aided in subduing both. A wholesome and pervading reactive sentiment, rebuking extremes, renews confidence and reinspires hope.

The Government is stronger, and the people ready, as heretofore, to stand by it. Confidence among the masses will impart vigor to the army. And what is even more essential, this improved feeling—this restored Union among us, will dishearten rebellion. In all that is material for the prosecution of the war, we are as strong as in the beginning. Our resources are inexhaustible. With the States in rebellion, destitution borders on despair. With such success at Vicksburgh and Charleston as we are entitled to expect, despair would come to overwhelm the leaders in rebellion.

Of the reaction in public sentiment, an admirable letter from a Democrat of 1814 furnishes gratifying evidence. Mr. SHUFELDT says:

"I noticed the two articles in your paper signed 'A War Democrat.' Just fifty years ago this Winter I was a law student in your city, and heard JACOB R. VAN RENSSELAER, ELISHA WILLIAMS, DAVID B. OGDEN and other Federalists use precisely the same arguments and almost the same language in the Assembly, and I am led to think, therefore, that your correspondent resorted to the Assembly records of that date, and made a mistake in copying the arguments of the above named Federalists, instead of those of MARTIN VAN BUREN, JOHN SAVAGE and others on the Democratic side who manfully sustained Mr. MADISON in that trying time. Be that as it may, I think you will find upon a little examination of the subject that the ground taken by your correspondent is wholly untenable.

Depend upon it, the thinking part of the people despise extremes. Let us, Democrats, then stand by the Government to put down rebellion, and after this is done, settle with the Republicans.

The Federalists in 1812, &c., cried out 'Peace, peace,' when there was no peace. Let our cry be as then, 'War, war,' while there is war, and peace afterwards."

This touches the right spot. I rejoice to see an old flint of 1814 flashing forth its patriotic sparks. I hope the Democracy of 1863 will be admonished by this warning of the fate of parties who lack patriotism. The Federalists of 1812 reviled and ridiculed "JIMMY MADISON" as bitterly as they now assail "ABE LINCOLN." They chuckled then, as secession sympathizers do now, when news of defeat or disaster came. But they buried their party too deep for resurrection.

There is in another quarter a still more remarkable evidence of reaction—a conversion, indeed, bordering upon the miraculous:

From the New-York Tribune of March 23.

But it has seemed, on our part, desirable to strengthen the new movement toward earnest, active, unconditional loyalty in the opposition ranks, by convincing Democrats of the fact that the war is waged on the part of our Government simply and in good faith for the restoration of the Union—that the Emancipation policy is a necessary incident of that war—and that the rebels are subjected to perils and loss because they are traitors, and not because they are slaveholders. Slavery in this country is, we trust, approaching its end, which JEFF. DAVIS has done more than LLOYD GARRISON, or any other avowed Abolitionist, to hasten. There are citizens, otherwise well informed, whose party prejudices impel them to believe that this is "a war for the nigger," rather than for the Union; and that prejudice weakens the arms of the nation. We seek, therefore, to dispel it, and we trust not without success.

This will startle many readers. I hardly dare ask you to believe that it is actually and literally transferred from the Tribune. But it is, and from an editorial! If, however, Mr. GREELEY should say it is "A LIE," the number of those who would believe him is probably not as large as in 1862.

I was read out of the Republican Party, and driven out of the Evening Journal for urging that this war should be prosecuted to overcome a wicked rebellion, to reëstablish the authority of the Government, and to restore the Union. This alone was the ground of "irreconcilable difference with my party." That was the length and breadth of my offending. When I stated that an effort was making in influential quarters to narrow and pervert the issue from a question of Union to one of Abolition, the Tribune said it was "A LIE." But now Mr. GREELEY admits that the "arm of the nation" has been "weakened" by those whose "party prejudices impel them to believe that this is 'a war for the nigger,' rather than a war for the Union."

This is precisely the ground of my controversy with the Tribune. In the paragraph quoted from the Tribune, that journal describes itself! Every thought and sentiment in that paragraph will be found expressed in this journal, and denounced by the Tribune. But for the teachings of the Tribune, in utter conflict with itself, and now repudiated, our country would have been spared half the horrors of this war. T. W.

AMUSEMENTS.

Four performances were given at the Academy, last week, including a matinée on Saturday. The weather was unfavorable on the last-mentioned occasion, and the house suffered in consequence. An accident of this kind ought to be a slight matter, but where the balance between profit and loss is so finely adjusted, it is apt to be a very serious affair. It is probable that owing to it Mr. MARETZEK has lost all the profits of his week's labor. The conditions of operatic management are indeed hard, and no wonder that failure is so often the reward of those who undertake it. At our low prices of admission a single night of bad weather leaves a deficit that can hardly be recovered in a couple of crowded performances, and yet whilst we clamor for a good company, such as we now have, and grumble at any necessary economy that may be imposed on the management, we hesitate to acknowledge that it is essential to the maintenance of an art institution that the prices should be raised to an approximation of the European standard. How Mr. MARETZEK will contrive when he brings out new operas—and two are already in preparation, one by PETRELLA, called the "Last Days of Pompeii," and the other by Mr. W. H. FRY, called "Esmeralda"—is more than we can imagine.

Mr. MARETZEK will complete his second season of six nights on Wednesday—playing on consecutive evenings until then, owing to the religious festivals at the end of the week. There will also be a grand sacred concert on Friday evening. The opera for this evening is ROSSINI'S "Semiramide," in which the new tenor, Signor MINETTI, will make his second appearance. The cast is an excellent one, and includes the names of Mme. GUERRABELLA, Mlle. SULZER and Signor BIACHI. On Wednesday evening BELLINI'S opera of "Norma" will be repeated, owing to the general desire expressed for its repetition and the fact that many people were unable to obtain admission on Friday night. It is unquestionably the great success of the season, and fully merits all the praise that has been bestowed on it. To-morrow (Tuesday) evening, DONIZETTI'S opera of "Lucia di Lammermoor" will be produced for the first time this season, with Signor MAZZOLENI in the rôle of Edgardo, and Mlle. BRIGNOLI as Lucia.

Messrs. MASON and THOMAS gave their fifth soirée of chamber music at Dodworth's on Tuesday evening. The programme was unusually varied, and, perhaps, for this reason, attracted an overflowing audience. The opening quartette in E flat major No. 4, by MOZART, was excellently played, and gave place to a periwig-pated sonata for piano and violin by BACH (in E major No. 3,) with the execution of which we failed to be satisfied. After this Mr. MASON played three of SCHUMANN'S novelettes for piano, from the suite dedicated to HENSELT, (opus 21.) They are rather elaborate trifles, and interesting mainly for their workmanship, which is good. They were played with Mr. MASON'S usual clearness and were warmly applauded. The concluding morceau of the programme was MENDELSSOHN'S octet in E major, (opus 20)—a work exclusively for stringed instruments, and undoubtedly one of the master's best productions. The ideas are rather wide apart, coming like stations on a railroad. The way between is not always interesting, but it is traveled rapidly. The opening moment, and the scherso, are the best—the andante being sententious and heavy, and the presto common-place and tedious. The work was well interpreted, but here, as in the Sonate, we noticed much irregularity of intonation, arising, possibly, from the moist state of the weather, and the crowded condition of the room. Messrs. MASON and THOMAS will give their sixth and last soirée of the present season on Tuesday, the 31st inst.

The artists of the Studio Building will give another of their pleasant receptions on Thursday evening next, the 2d of April.

Mr. GOTTSCHALK will commence his series of concerts at Irving Hall on Monday evening next. A new prima donna, Mrs. ABBOTT, of whom report speaks highly, will make her début at these entertainments.

The announcements at the various places of amusement to-night are as follows: At Wallack's, GOLDSMITH'S comedy, "She Stoops to Conquer;" at the Winter Garden, Miss LUCILLE WESTERN, in "East Lynne;" at Niblo's Garden, the great artist, Miss MATILDA HERON, in "Edith" (another version of "East Lynne;") at Laura Keene's, the highly successful and charming drama of "Jessie McLane."

The Lecture Room at Barnum's Museum will to-day experience a sensation, a "Star' making his appearance at that blissful Temple of the Moral Drama for the first time since its erection. The gentleman's name is EMERY, who appears in the drama entitled "Shadow on the Wall." Little NUTT enters with zest into the battle of the dwarfs, and makes his début in the various characters which twenty years ago made his rival famous. Miss MINNIE gives her full powers, vocal and intellectual, to the assistance of her chief, and together they make a strong team. The Arab troupe, which is really the most wonderful we have had in this part of the world, remains but this week.

Gen. TOM THUMB, accompanied by his petite bride, makes his first appearance at Irving Hall, in the character of a married man, to-day. The Levées will be given during this week, after which the little ones leave these gay and festive scenes.

On Saturday night Prof. E. MILLET gave a grand Soirée Musicale, at the elegant rooms of Mrs. HOFFMAN, in Thirty-eighth-street, before a large and fashionable audience. A programm. of choice selections from ROSSINI, DONIZETTI, BALFE, BEETHOVEN, with original music by Prof. MILLET, was was given with an appreciative spirit which one rarely finds in amateurs. The young ladies, as though accustomed to the imperious demands of the most critical audiences, sustained charmingly their rôles, and achieved a decided success. The feature of the concert was a Corsican scene, the words and music by Prof. MILLET. The topic was borrowed from the old and wild vendettish habits of the people on the little isle of Corsica. The music seemed in entire harmony with the dramatic wording of the scene, and would warrant the composer in more frequently and pretentiously appearing before the public.

Mr. GOTTSCHALK'S Concert, in Brooklyn, last Saturday evening, was a decided success in everything but the numbers of the audience—an important item. The night was stormy, and on Brooklyn Heights wind and rain have full sweep. The parquette and balcony, however, in which were the reserved seats, were well filled; an evidence that the storm, only, caused so sparse a settlement in the other parts of the house. Those who braved it were richly repaid for their effort, as the artists were in unusually good condition, and all sustained to the full their reputations—which is praise enough.

Mr. J. R. THOMAS, by sudden indisposition, was unable to fill his part as expected, to the disappointment of many. The concert was opened by Mr. THEO THOMAS, (already known and appreciated in Brooklyn as a favorite conductor of the Philharmonic Orchestra,) in a violin solo, played with much delicacy and feeling, and well accompanied on the piano by Signor ABELLA. Mr. GOTTSCHALK and Mr. GEORGE W. WARREN performed a new "March," composed by the latter, called the "Heart of the Andes." This was most heartily encored, and will by no means damage the already high appreciation in which Mr. WARREN is held in Brooklyn. Madame PATTI STRAKOSCH always gives us something good, but the selections made were hardly such as to show her rich, sweet voice to its best advantage. ROSSINI'S "Ah, Mon Fils," was feelingly sung, and "Kathleen Mavourneen" received a genuine encore. The cavatina from "Ernani" was not so successful.

Mr. GOTTSCHALK'S now well-known "Berceuse" was, as always, most charming; the gentleman also played CHOPIN'S "Valse in D flat." Mr. THOMAS gave a second violin solo by VIEUXTEMPS, which received the full compliment, as well as complement, of applause, and the concert was closed by Mr. GOTTSCHALK'S brilliant "Ojos Creollos," performed most brilliantly by the author and Mr. EUGENE TRASTOUR.

The main feature of the evening was, of course, the wonderful pianist, who excites or soothes the nervous susceptibilities of his audience at will. We hope he will try again in Brooklyn, for the house is a delicious one for music,—and the people love to hear as much good music as they may—only let Mr. GOTTSCHALK arrange for a pleasant night beforehand, that the result may be as gratifying to him as to his audience.

Mlle. GALETTI finished her five weeks' engagement at Niblo's Garden (where she has added materially to the eclat of Mr. and Miss RICHINGS' operatic performances) on Saturday evening, and appears in grand ballet at the Boston Academy of Music for two weeks.

Mlle. CUBAS, having concluded an engagement in Chicago, appeared at Pike's Opera House, Cincinnati, on Monday evening, to the largest audience that has been assembled in that establishment for a very lengthened period; thence she proceeds to Louisville, after which she will reappear in New-York and Brooklyn, in some new pieces of the Celeste class, which have been written expressly for her.

Trades Movements.

MEETINGS OF THE PIANO MAKERS, PAINTERS, TAILORS, BAKERS AND COOPERS.

The movement among the laboring classes for increased wages is progressing steadily, and is conducted with becoming dignity and order. A meeting of the Piano Makers' Association was held Saturday night at Turner Hall, in Orchard-street, EVELLERT OESTERRENCHER in the chair. A Constitution and By-laws were adopted.

The weekly meeting of the Fresco Painters' Association was held Saturday night at the Tivoli, No. 141 Avenue A, D. R. SIEMON in the chair, and A. ROSENBERG, Secretary. Circulars were approved, setting forth the demand of the workingmen for higher wages, in very respectful language. The circular was ordered to be presented to all employers. The present pay is two dollars per day; but after the 13th of April, two dollars and fifty cents will be demanded. It is generally understood that the bosses will be willing to pay the advance. There are but some eighty fresco painters (journeymen) in New-York, almost exclusively Germans, all of whom are united in this movement. In former years the wages paid ranged as high as $5, but this kind of work has become depreciated by the general disorder of the times.

A full and spirited meeting of the Journeymen Tailors' Protective Union was held Saturday night, at No. 231 Grand-street, GEORGE BUSS in the chair, and ROBT. CROWE acting as Secretary. The following firms were announced to have acquiesced to the advance demanded by the Union: Brooks Brothers, Baldwin & Co., Meterier & Russell, Phil. Conklin, John Dargarel, Vanderbilt, of Broadway, Weidenfeld, White & Laughran, Teets & Throckmorton, Dufenthaler & Schaefer, Dikeman & Everett, Devlin & Co., Cront Levi, Vose & Co., Sheffler & Whitford, Jones & Hannabery, Hector F. Derby, Arnold & Co., and many more. The hands of HUESTON & HASTINGS are on a strike, while those of VANDERBILT'S struck yesterday morning, but in less than three hours they gained the desired object. A large amount of money was collected from among those members of the Association now employed, for the support of those hands who are now on a strike. The Brooklyn tailors communicated with the Union, through a Committee, consisting of Messrs. THOMAS DORSEY and THOMAS LEE, for the purpose of securing a united action. There are new organizations forming in Brooklyn and Boston. The Central organization resolved that no shop be sustained in their strike unless they are authorized to do so by a resolution of the Union.

A well-attended meeting of the Journeymen Bakers, Association was held Saturday night, at Pythagoras Hall, JOHN Z. RENNIE in the chair. The following officers were elected, for the ensuing quarter; John Z. Rennie President (reëlected); Frederick Wolff, Vice-President (reëlected); John W. Carter, Recording Secretary; Henry Knabenshuk, Financial Secretary; Gregory Wheelan, Treasurer (reëlected); Edward Tracy, Conductor; John Farley, Sergeant-at-arms; Joseph Risenberg, John Perry, Charles Spindler, Michael Magrath, Auditors; Robert Parker, James Kirby, Martin Althaus, Trustees. The Society numbers now about two hundred and fifty active members, and is constantly increasing in membership. The following were elected delegates to the delegate's meeting of the United Workingmen: Henry Knabenshuk, John Perrin, and John W. Carter.

The coopers have also made a strike for an increase, and held a large meeting in Williamsburgh, S. F. B. Lingenvyke in the chair. They transacted a large amount of routine business, and elected three delegates to the General Committee of Workingmen.

Engagement Near Milton, Tenn.

MURFREESBORO, Saturday, March 21.

The expedition which went out in the direction of Liberty on Wednesday last, was attacked yesterday morning by 2,500 mounted rebels, commanded by the guerrilla, Gen. JOHN MORGAN. Our force consisted of the One Hundred and Fifth Ohio, Eightieth and One Hundred and Twenty-third Illinois, and One Hundred and First Indiana, besides a section of the Nineteenth Indiana battery, and Capt. BLACKBURN'S company of cavalry of the First Middle Tennessee, the whole under command of Col. A. S. HALL.

Col. HALL formed three separate lines of battle, and so disposed as to command every approach to the hill. At this moment of the fight the rebels made the most stubborn attempts on our right and left, but were driven back repeatedly with fearful slaughter.

The rebel surgeons admit a loss of 3 captains killed and 2 wounded; 3 lieutenants wounded, 1 mortally; 28 men killed; 18 men mortally wounded, and 150 seriously or slightly injured. Col. GRIGSBY, rebel, had his right arm broken, and Lieut.-Col. NAPIER, rebel, badly wounded in thigh, amputated. MORGAN'S course in this affair is severely criticised by the rebel surgeons, and they assert that it will cost him his command.

It is of infinite importance to the public to know that HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS prevent, relieve and cure the complaints most prevalent in this climate during the SPRING OF THE YEAR.

Their preventive operation is simple. Acting directly upon the stomach, and through the stomach upon the liver, the bowels, the circulation, and the nervous system, they impart to the whole organization a degree of vigor and elasticity which enables us to resist the unhealthy atmospheric influences, by which so many distressing maladies are produced and prolonged. The great predisposing cause of sickness is CONSTITUTIONAL and PHYSICAL DEBILITY. Disease, like a coward, generally assails the feeble, and turns aside from the strong. And this is especially true of the forms of disease which prevail at the breaking up of Winter. The first warm days of the Spring sun seem to thaw out from the frozen earth the elements of innumerable ailments. The miasma which the frost had hermetically sealed up is let loose in clouds of vapor, and Fever and Ague, Bilious Remittent Fevers, Indigestion, Liver Complaint, Diphtheria, Rheumatism, Bilious Colic, Asthma, Coughs, Colds, Physical and Mental Depression, and a low and feeble condition of all the vital functions, are among the most common consequences of the great Spring thaw which fills the air with unwholesome damps. Fortify in advance against these prostrating and destructive agencies. Iron-plate the system, as it were, by resorting to a pure tonic and alterative, which will bring every organ and fibre of the frame into the best possible state for resisting the flying arrows of disease, which the fogs and winds of March, April and May bear upon their mephitic wings. Remember that HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS are like a strong garrison thrown into a fort before the approach of the enemy. They forearm the citadel of life against the attacks of all maladies that arise from sudden changes of temperature, impure air, privation, exposure, excessive labor, and malarious exhalations. Hence they are

and no military hospital ought to be without a sufficient supply, both for preventive and remedial purposes. Happily the attention of the

has been directed to the subject, and the proprietors of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS congratulate the troops now in arms for the Union on the probability that the ADULTERATED CONTRACT STIMULANTS, at present used as medicines by the army Surgeons, will soon be superseded by the purest and best Tonic, Alterative and Invigorant that has ever been presented to the Faculty in this or any other country. Since the war commenced considerable quantities of the preparation have been forwarded from time to time to field and line officers, both in the Western and Eastern armies, for their own personal use; and letters from some of the most eminent military men in the service attest the extraordinary virtues of the Bitters as a means of sustaining strength and promoting health in the midst of hardship and exposure, and also as a safe stimulant for the wounded. As private citizens, many of the officers of volunteers had proved the hygeian properties of the article, and, therefore, wisely resorted to it as a protective and a remedy, where their health is necessarily in greater peril than it would be in civil life.

Dyspepsia is never so general or so distressing as at this season. The appetite is keener, and is indulged to a greater extent in the Winter than at any other time of the year, and the consequence is, that the functions of the stomach, bowels and liver are over-taxed during the cold weather, and are often in a relaxed and partially torpid condition when Spring arrives. NOW, therefore, this is a time to brace up the digestive and secretive organs for the Summer campaign with HOSTETTER'S BITTERS. To neglect this precaution under such circumstances, is to invite CHRONIC INDIGESTION, the most melancholy and disheartening of all complaints.

As a REMEDY as well as a Preventive, this celebrated medicinal cordial ranks among the most potent preparations of the age. It breaks up intermittent and remittent fevers promptly and without debilitating the patient, and is equally efficacious in disorders of the liver and the bowels. For all complaints of the stomach it is as nearly infallible as anything of human origin can be expected to be; and in cases of general weakness it is literally a VITALIZING ELIXIR. Convalescents will find it the safest and best Invigorant and Restorative ever administered to exhausted humanity. It is guaranteed to be absolutely free from all the corrosive elements which enter into the composition of ordinary diffusive stimulants, and its effect upon the nervous system is wonderfully soothing and quieting.

Let those who wish to insure their health for the Summer use HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS as a Spring medicine.
